

When Change of Heart Is a Challenge!

For as long as we are absorbed in me and mine and locked to the mental platform we can only make adjustments — transformational change is not an option. This only becomes possible when we take honest shelter of the mercy and potency of Śrī Śrī Guru and Gaurāṅga and try to live as Their servant in this world, dependent on Their mercy and potency.

The whole material world is working on the basis of “I” and “mine”. This is the root of attraction to the material world. If one is attracted to this root of illusory conceptions — “I” and “mine” — he will have to remain within this material world.

The karmī thinks of this world as “mine”, and the jñānī thinks “I am” everything.
