I-Mangalacarana

Verse - 1

hṛd-vapre nava-bhakti-śasya-vitateḥ sañjīvanī svāgamā-rambhe kāma-tapartudāha-damanī viśvāpagollāsinī | dūrān me maru-śākhino'pi sarasī-bhāvāya bhūyāt prabhu-śrī-caitanya-kṛpā-niraṅkuśa-mahā-mādhurya-kādambinī

The mercy of Shri Krishna Chaitanya Mahaprabhu (prabhu-śricaitanya-kṛpā) is an uncontrollable cloud bank of exquisitely sweet nectar (nirankuśa-mahā-mādhurya-kādambinī) whose sudden appearance (svāgama ārambhe) fully rejuvenates (sañjīvanī) the grains of nine-fold bhakti (nava-bhakti-śasya-vitateh) in the field of the heart (hrd-vapre), extinguishes the burning summer heat of lust (kāmatapartudāha-damanī) and bestows rapture to the universal river of living beings (viśva āpaga ullāsinī). From far off (dūrān), may those clouds of the Lord's mercy give satisfaction and pleasure (sarasībhāvāya bhūyāt) even to this worthless soul, a dried-up tree in the desert (me maru-śākhino api).

The First Shower of nectar

I-Mangalacarana

bhaktiḥ pūrvaiḥ śritā tām tu rasam paśyed yad-ātta-dhīḥ | tam naumi satatam rūpanāma-priya-janam hareḥ

Though there are others who in the past have taken up the path of devotional service to the Lord (pūrvaiḥ tām bhaktiḥ śritā tu), I pay my continual obeisances (tam satatam naumi) to Srila Rupa Goswami, who is dearmost to the Lord (rūpa-nāma hareḥ priya-janam). By his mercy, humanity has received the intelligence (yad-ātta-dhīḥ) to see all rasas (relationships with the Lord) revealed by bhakti (devotion to the Lord) (rasam paśyed).

Part-II The highest understanding of Absolute Truth is Akhila Rasamrta Murti

The First Shower of nectar

II-The highest understanding of Absolute Truth is Akhila Rasamrta Murti

Verse – 3

• The sruti (Taittiriya Upanisad), after explaining the different coverings of consciousness (anna-maya etc.), concludes:

brahma puccham pratistha

"Brahman, the shelter or support for everything, is supreme".

- This statement would seem to establish Brahman, the shelter of everything, as superior to the anandamaya purusa.
- But then the same scripture says:

raso vai sah rasam hy evayam labdhvanandi bhavati

"The Lord is rasa itself. Attaining that rasa, the jiva becomes blissful."

The First Shower of nectar

II-The highest understanding of Absolute Truth is Akhila Rasamrta Murti

Verse – 3

- This statement shows that the Lord in his form as rasa incarnate is supreme.
- In the same vein, the Srimad Bhagavatam, the cream of Vedanta and emperor amongst all types of evidence, describes the Lord as the embodiment of rasa or pleasure:

mallānām aśanir nṛṇām nara-varaḥ strīṇām smaro mūrtimān gopānām sva-jano 'satām kṣiti-bhujām śāstā sva-pitroḥ śiśuḥ mṛtyur bhoja-pater virāḍ aviduṣām tattvam param yoginām vṛṣṇīnām para-devateti vidito raṅgam gataḥ sāgrajaḥ

Krsna – Akhila Rasamrta Murtih

1. mallānām aśanir -----> Wrestlers as thunderbolt – Virya rasa

2. nṛṇāṁ nara-varaḥ -----> Men of Mathura as best of males – Vismaya rasa

3. strīṇām smaro mūrtimān ---> Women as cupid – Madhurya rasa

4. gopānām sva-jano -----> Cowherd boys as their relative – Sakhya and Hasya rasa

5. asatām kṣiti-bhujām śāstā ---> Impious rulers as a chastiser – Raudra rasa

6. sva-pitroḥ śiśuḥ -----> His parents as their child – Vatsalya and Karuna rasa

7. mṛtyur bhoja-pateḥ -----> Death for kamsa – Bhayanaka rasa

8. virāḍ aviduṣāṁ -----> Unintelligent as virata rupa – Bibhatsa rasa

9. tattvam param yoginām ----> Yogis as absolute truth – Shanta rasa

10. vṛṣṇīnām para-devata -----> Vrsnis as Supreme worshippable deity – Dasya rasa

The First Shower of nectar

II-The highest understanding of Absolute Truth is Akhila Rasamrta Murti Verse – 3

• In the Bhagavad Gita the Lord himself asserts his identity:

brahmaņo hi pratisthāham

"I am the basis of Brahman."

- Therefore the Absolute Truth, that blissful, transcendental Supreme Person, is none other than Sri Krsna, the son of the King of Vraja, who has an unlimited body featuring all-auspicious, transcendental names, forms, qualities, and pastimes.
- This blissful Lord descends to human perception of the ear, eye, mind and intellect, not by any material cause, but simply by his own independent will just as, by his own will, He appeared in the material world as Krsna in the Yadu dynasty and Rama in the Raghu dynasty.

Part-III The Lord and Suddha Bhakti are Self-manifest and Independent

How does one receive the Seed of Devotion?

Three important aspects of Bhakti's Descent

1. Ahaitukī

2. Yadrcchayā

3. Some People receive it and Some People Don't.

1. Ahaitukī

| 1.2.6 ||
sa vai pumsām paro dharmo yato bhaktir adhokṣaje ahaituky apratihatā
yayātmā suprasīdati

The supreme dharma for all human beings (sādhana bhakti) (sa vai pumsām paro dharmo) is that by which prema-bhakti to the Lord arises (yato bhaktir adhokṣaje), which is not caused by anything other than itself (ahaituky), cannot be obstructed (apratihatā), and which satisfies the mind completely (yayātmā suprasīdati).

|| 1.7.10 ||
sūta uvāca ātmārāmāś ca munayo nirgranthā apy urukrame kurvanty ahaitukīm bhaktim ittham-bhūta-guṇo hariḥ

Sūta said: Some sages who are ātmārāmas (ātmārāmāś ca munayo), beyond the scriptures, false ego and rules (nirgranthā apy), also practice unmotivated, pure bhakti (kurvanty ahaitukīm bhaktim) to the master of pure bhakti, Kṛṣṇa (hariḥ urukrame), since he possesses qualities attractive to even them (ittham-bhūta-guṇo).

|| 3.29.11-12 ||
mad-guṇa-śruti-mātreṇa mayi sarva-guhāśaye mano-gatir avicchinnā
yathā gaṅgāmbhaso 'mbudhau

lakṣaṇam bhakti-yogasya nirguṇasya hy udāhṛtam ahaituky avyavahitā yā bhaktiḥ puruṣottame

Because the mind (manah), by hearing about my qualities (mad-guṇa-śruti-mātreṇa), flows continuously (gatih avicchinnā) to me (mayi), the Supreme Lord residing in the hearts of all people (sarva-guhāśaye), just as the Gaṅgā flows to the ocean (yathā gaṅgāmbhaso ambudhau), it is said (udāhṛtam) that the quality of bhakti (lakṣaṇaṁ bhakti-yogasya) beyond the guṇas (nirguṇasya) is absence of results other than bhakti unto the Lord (ahaituky bhaktiḥ puruṣottame) and lack of obstructions from other processes (avyavahitā).

|| CC Antya 20.29 ||
na dhanam na janam na sundarīm kavitām vā jagad-īśa kāmaye mama janmani janmanīśvare bhavatād bhaktir ahaitukī tvayi

"O Almighty Lord (jagad-īśa)! I have no desire (na kāmaye) to accumulate wealth (dhanam), nor have I any desire to enjoy beautiful women, nor do I want any number of followers (na janam na sundarīm kavitām vā). I only want Your causeless devotional service (bhavatād bhaktir ahaitukī tvayi) in my life (mama), birth after birth (janmani janmani)."

|| 5.18.9 ||

svasty astu viśvasya khalaḥ prasīdatām dhyāyantu bhūtāni śivam mitho dhiyā manaś ca bhadram bhajatād adhokṣaje āveśyatām no matir apy ahaitukī

Let there be auspiciousness for the universe (svasty astu viśvasya). May the wicked be pleased, not angry (khalaḥ prasīdatām)! May all beings together (bhūtāni mithah) meditate by their intelligence (dhiyā dhyāyantu) on cooperation (śivam)! May the mind become free of attachment (manah ca bhajatād bhadram)! May our minds (nah matih) without motivation (ahaitukī) be absorbed in the Supreme Lord (āveśyatām adhokṣaje)!

Meanings of the Word Ahaitukī

1. Causeless

2. Self-Causative

2. Yadrcchayā

Yadrcchayā

| 11.20.11 ||
asmil loke vartamānaḥ sva-dharma-stho 'naghaḥ śuciḥ jñānaṁ viśuddham āpnoti mad-bhaktiṁ vā yadṛcchayā

One who is situated in his prescribed duty (sva-dharma-sthah), free from sinful activities and cleansed of material contamination (anaghaḥ śuciḥ), in this very life (asmil loke vartamānaḥ) obtains transcendental knowledge (jñānam viśuddham āpnoti) or, by fortune, bhakti to me (mad-bhaktim vā yadṛcchayā).

Yadrcchayā

| 8.24.46 | śrī-rājovāca anādy-avidyopahatātma-samvidas tan-mūla-samsāra-pariśramāturāḥ yadṛcchayopasṛtā yam āpnuyur vimuktido naḥ paramo gurur bhavān

The King said: Those who have lost their self-knowledge (upahata ātma-samvidah) because of ignorance without beginning (anādy-avidyā), and who because of this ignorance (tad-mūla) are suffering from fatigue in the material world (samsāra-pariśrama āturāḥ), after obtaining the mercy of devotee (yadrcchayā upaṣṛtā), attain you (yam āpnuyuh), who give special liberation (vimuktidah) and who are the supreme guru who cuts the knot in the heart (naḥ paramo gurur bhavān).

Yadṛcchayā

| 10.3.27 ||
martyo mṛtyu-vyāla-bhītaḥ palāyan lokān sarvān nirbhayam nādhyagacchat tvat pādābjam prāpya yadṛcchayādya

susthah sete mṛtyur asmād apaiti

No one in this material world has become free from the four principles birth, death, old age and disease (mṛtyu-vyāla-bhītaḥ martyah nirbhayam nādhyagacchat), even by fleeing to various planets (lokān sarvān palāyan). But now that You have appeared, My Lord, death is fleeing in fear of You (mṛtyur asmād apaiti), and the living entities, having obtained shelter at Your lotus feet by Your mercy (tvat pādābjam prāpya adya yadṛcchayā), are sleeping in full mental peace (susthaḥ śete).

By the devotion attained by great mercy (yadrcchaya), one attains your lotus feet which are abjam or Dhanvatari, Lord of medicine.

Yadrcchayā

|| 11.20.8 ||
yadṛcchayā mat-kathādau
jāta-śraddhas tu yaḥ pumān na nirviṇṇo nāti-sakto bhakti-yogo 'sya siddhi-daḥ

If by unexpected association with devotees (yadṛcchayā) one develops faith in my topics (mat-kathādau jāta-śraddhas tu yaḥ pumān), that person (asya), being neither very disgusted with nor attached to material life (na nirviṇṇo nāti-sakto), is qualified for bhakti and will achieve perfection (bhakti-yogah siddhi-daḥ).

Meanings of the Word Yadrcchayā

1. By Luck or Chance

- a. Luck generated by Piety
- b. Causeless Luck

2. By Independent Will

- a. By Krsna's Independent Will
- b. By the Devotee's Independent Will
- c. By the Receiving Jiva's Independent Will

Option-1

One Receives Bhakti by Luck generated by Piety

- 1. Evaluation of the Ahaituki criterion
- 2. Evaluation of the "Why someone gets and someone does not get" criterion

|| 2.4.18 ||

I offer respects to the Lord of inconceivable power (tasmai prabhaviṣṇave namaḥ). The Kirātas, Hūṇas, Andhras, Pulindas, Pulkaśas (kirāta hūṇa āndhra pulinda pulkaśā), Abhīras, Śumbhas, Yavanas, Khasas (ābhīra śumbhā yavanāḥ khasa ādayaḥ) and others of low birth, and those sinful by actions (ye anye ca pāpā), by taking shelter of the devotees who take shelter of the powerful Lord (yad-apāśraya āśrayāḥ), become purified of their prārabdha-karmas (śudhyanti).

|| 9.30 || api cet su-durācāro bhajate mām ananya-bhāk sādhur eva sa mantavyaḥ samyag vyavasito hi saḥ

Even if (api cet) the most sinful person (su-durācāro) worships Me (bhajate mām) with no other desire than to please Me (ananya-bhāk), I consider that person to be My devotee (sādhur eva sa mantavyaḥ), as he has fixed himself completely in Me (samyag vyavasito hi saḥ).

|| 9.31 ||

Very quickly he becomes a righteous person (kṣipraṁ bhavati dharmātmā), and becomes completely devoid of contamination (śaśvat-śāntiṁ nigacchati). O son of Kuntī (kaunteya), you declare (pratijānīhi) that My devotee never perishes (na me bhaktaḥ praṇaśyati).

|| 9.32 || mām hi pārtha vyapāśritya ye 'pi syuḥ pāpa-yonayaḥ striyo vaiśyās tathā śūdrās te 'pi yānti parām gatim

Even those born in sinful situations (ye pāpa-yonayaḥ syuḥ api), such as women, vaiśyas and śūdas, and even the outcastes (striyo vaiśyās tathā śūdrāh), if they surrender to Me (mām hi vyapāśritya), attain Me, the supreme goal (te api yānti parām gatim).

Among men (manuṣyeṣu), there is no one who has satisfied Me as much (na ca me tasmān kaścin me priya-kṛttamaḥ) and never will there be in the future (bhavitā na ca me). There has never been one dearer to Me than he in this world, and there will never be in the future (anyaḥ priyataro bhuvi).

The nectar of Your words and the descriptions of Your activities (tava kathāmṛtaṁ) are the life and soul of those suffering in this material world (tapta-jīvanaṁ). These narrations, transmitted by learned sages (kavibhir īḍitaṁ), eradicate one's sinful reactions (kalmaṣāpahaṁ) and bestow good fortune upon whoever hears them (śravaṇa-maṅgalaṁ). These narrations are broadcast all over the world and are filled with spiritual power (śrīmadātataṁ). Certainly those who spread the message of Godhead are most munificent (bhuvi gṛṇanti ye bhūri-dā janāḥ).

Option-4

By the Devotee's Independent Will

1. Evaluation of the "Why someone gets and someone does not get" criterion

Why someone gets Bhakti While others don't?

Due to the Devotee's Independent Will

Is the Devotee Partial then?

2. Evaluation of the Ahaituki criterion

The Devotee's will to preach is born out of his Compassion $\parallel 10.31.9 \parallel$

tava kathāmṛtam tapta-jīvanam kavibhir īḍitam kalmaṣāpaham śravaṇa-maṅgalam śrīmad ātatam bhuvi gṛṇanti ye bhūri-dā janāḥ

The Devotee's compassion is born out of his practice of Bhakti

|| 5.18.12 ||

yasyāsti bhaktir bhagavaty akiñcanā sarvair guṇais tatra samāsate surāḥ harāv abhaktasya kuto mahad-guṇā manorathenāsati dhāvato bahiḥ

The devatās constantly dwell (surāḥ samāsate) with all good qualities (sarvair guṇaih) in (tatra) that person who has pure bhakti for the Lord (yasya akiñcanā bhagavaty bhaktir āsti). There are no good qualities in the non-devotee (harāv abhaktasya kuto mahadguṇā) who chases after (dhāvatah) temporary material objects (asati bahiḥ) with desire for material pleasure (manorathena).

The Devotee's compassion is born out of his practice of Bhakti

|| Padma Purana ||
yenārcito haris tena
tarpitāni jaganty api | rajyanti jantavas tatra
jangamāḥ sthāvarā api ||

He who worships the Lord (yena harih arcitah) is pleasing to all living entities (tarpitāni jaganty api); and all the inhabitants of the world (jantavah tatra), both moving and non-moving (jangamāḥ sthāvarā api), are pleasing to him (tena rajyanti).

Therefore, the statement that one receives Bhakti by the Devotee's Independent Will is not incongruent to the Ahaituki and yadrcchaya nature of Bhakti

But, Is the Devotee acting independent of the will of the Lord?

If yes, then is he a devotee?

If no, then the Lord is partial. Isn't He?

V- The Supreme Lord Is Subservient to His Pure Devotee Verse – 7

- But one should not conclude that since the devotee is dependent on the will of Lord, the devotee cannot initiate the bestowal of mercy.
- For the Lord willingly becomes subservient to His devotee, and gives preeminence to the devotee's position by granting him the power to bestow the Lord's mercy (svakrpa-sakti).
- Though as Paramatma He simply oversees the affairs of the jiva's external senses, which are the reward of his past activities, the Lord personally shows special mercy to His devotees by giving them His own independent power to bestow mercy to others.

- As Krsna says in the Bhagavad-gita, only by His bestowal of mercy can one attain His eternal spiritual realm.
- This mercy is manifested in the Lord's bestowal of His own krpa-sakti to his devotee, who then gives it to the fallen souls, as previously explained.

Is the Devotee distributing Bhakti?

If yes, then what does it mean to distribute Bhakti?

If not, then what is he distributing?

Though the sages saw everything equally (yadyapi munayah tulya-darśanāḥ), they showed mercy to me (te mayy kṛpām cakruḥ), by which I, though a boy (apeta akhila-cāpale arbhake), developed sense control (dānte), gave up child's play and all agitation (adhṛta-krīḍanake), became obedient (anuvartini), served attentively (śuśrūṣamāṇe), and spoke little (alpa-bhāṣiṇi).

Verse Summary: Though the sages saw everything equally, they showed mercy to me, by which I developed all good qualities.

Part-IV Bhakti is not caused by any other processes

The First Shower of nectar IV- Bhakti is not caused by any other processes Verse – 8

• Through many scriptural statements (sveccavatara caritaih, sveccha mayasya) one can understand that the Lord appears by His own will.

• Still, material vision may impel one to say that the need to relieve the burden of evil on the earth is the cause of the Lord's advent.

• Another opinion is that you appeared mainly because of Brahmā's request.

The First Shower of nectar IV- Bhakti is not caused by any other processes Verse – 8

• In the same way, sometimes it is said that prescribed activities (karma) performed without personal motives (niskama) act as the door to bhakti.

• There is no harm in such statements, if we understand their relative nature.

IV- Bhakti is not caused by any other processes Verse – 8

But yet charity, austerities etc. are clearly denied as causes of bhakti in the Eleventh Canto of Srimad Bhagavatam:

yam na yogena sānkhyena dāna-vrata-tapo-'dhvaraiḥ vyākhyā-svādhyāya-sannyāsaiḥ prāpnuyād yatnavān api

Even though one engages with great endeavour (yatnavān api) in the mystic yoga system, philosophical speculation (yogena sānkhyena), charity, vows, penances (dāna-vrata-tapo-adhvaraiḥ), etc (vyākhyā-svādhyāya-sannyāsaiḥ)., still one cannot achieve Me (yaṁ na prāpnuyād). (SB 11.12.9)

IV- Bhakti is not caused by any other processes Verse – 8

Despite charity, austerities, etc. being clearly denied as actual causes of bhakti, in another place Srimad Bhagavatam says:

dāna-vrata-tapo-homa japa-svādhyāya-samyamaiḥ śreyobhir vividhaiś cānyaiḥ kṛṣṇe bhaktir hi sādhyate

Devotion to Krishna is accomplished (kṛṣṇe bhaktir hi sādhyate) by such methods as charity, austerities, homa (dāna-vrata-tapo-homa), japa, study, sense control (japa-svādhyāya-saṃyamaiḥ), and other pious activities (śreyobhir vividhaiś cānyaiḥ). (SB 10.47.24)

• However, this statement refers to bhakti in the mode of material goodness (sattviki bhakti) which acts as a limb of the system of jnana, rather than the transcendental, fully spiritual bhakti in the category of prema (nirguna prema bhakti).

- Of course, some people say:
 - a) charity refers to giving to Vishnu and the Vaishnavas
 - by vrata or austerity refers to such vratas as ekadasi
 - c) tapas refers to renunciation of personal enjoyment for attainment of the Lord.

• Thus they are all angas or limbs of sadhana bhakti.

• To say bhakti is attained by these angas is not incorrect, for this simply means sadhya (perfected) bhakti is caused by sadhanabhakti, bhaktya sanjataya bhaktya (SB 11.3.31).

• Thus, the causeless nature of bhakti is again concluded.

• In this way, all contradictory points are settled.

My dear Lord (vibho), devotional service unto You (te udasya bhaktim) is the best path for self-realization (śreyaḥ-sṛtim). If someone gives up that path (kliśyanti ye) and engages in the cultivation of speculative knowledge (kevala-bodha-labdhaye), he will simply undergo a troublesome process (teṣām asau kleśala eva śiṣyate) and will not achieve his desired result (nānyad). V- Rather, it is Bhakti which supports the other processes

Verse – 9

• Thus, without bhakti, all these endeavors become fruitless.

• As the body depends on the presence of the soul, the very life of jnana, karma and yoga depends upon supremely exalted Bhakti-devi.

Part-VI Bhakti does not depend on Purity or Faith

•The dependence of karma and yoga on conditions of purity in place, time, candidate, materials and performance is well known from the smrti scriptures.

•This is not true of bhakti:

na deśa-niyamas tatra na kāla-nirṇayas tathā | nocchiṣṭādau niṣedho'sti śrī-harer nāmni lubdhake ||

In chanting the name of the Lord (śrī-harer nāmni lubdhake), there are no restrictions concerning place (na deśa-niyamas tatra) or time (na kāla-nirṇayas tathā), or restrictions on performance because of impurity (na ucchiṣṭa ādau niṣedhah asti).

VI- Bhakti does not depend on Purity or Faith Verse – 10

• Nor is bhakti even dependent upon faith. The Padma Purāṇa

(the Śrī Vyāsa Padyāvalyā) declares:

sakṛd api parigītam śraddhayā helayā vā bhṛgu-vara nara-mātram tārayet kṛṣṇa-nāma

What harrens If you perform a devotional activity culthout faith?

You accumulate winate I sule ! Ei -> You material tox faith (ayalification for blakti)

O best of the Bhrgus (bhṛgu-vara)! if anyone chants Lord Kṛṣṇa's name even once unreservedly (sakṛd api parigītam), whether in a derisive mood or with proper faith (śraddhayā helayā vā), the holy name will certainly award him liberation (nara-mātram tārayet kṛṣṇa-nāma).

• Furthermore, bhakti is not dependent on purity of practice, for whether the name is chanted purely or impurely it will deliver the fallen soul.

• The same cannot be said of karma yoga, where impurity is a great obstacle to progress.

mantro hinah svarato varnato va mithah prayukto na tam artham aha yathendra satruh svarato'paradhat sa vag vajro yajamanam hinasti

"If a mantra is either intoned or pronounced incorrectly, not only will the mantra have not effect, but it may be harmful."

In bhatti -) it is only the intention to please @ that matters -) nothing else

• An example of the importance of following such stipulations found in the story of Vrtrasura, wherein Tvasta Rsi performed sacrifice to vanquish Indra.

• While chanting the mantras the rsi mispronounced the word indra-satruh Pronounced correctly the word means "enemy of Indra {Vrtrasura}", instead it came to mean "Indra, enemy of Vrtrasura".

• This mistake proved fatal for Vrtrasura.

• The necessity of internal purity for practice of jnana yoga is well known.

Inana mara is maraquar dependent en learne mara for • Jnana yoga is moreover dependent on karma yoga, for one may enter jnana yoga only with a heart purified of gross desires.

• Such purity of heart stems from the performance of karma without gross desires.

• Because of this dependency, if the practioner of jnana yoga commits even a small unworthy act by accident, he is condemned as a vantasi, an eater of vomit. (sa vai vāntāśy apatrapaḥ) – SB 7.15.36

• Besides, Kamsa, Hiranyakasipu and Ravana were famous practicioners of jnana, and they are certainly not at all worthy of praise.

• On the other hand, one on the path of bhakti, though afflicted by lust, has the qualification to begin the practice, and just by the practice of bhakti, lust and other impurities are destroyed.

Purttretion 18 not a Pre-requisite of bhakti rather, it is an insignificant by-product of bhakti.

Anyone (yaḥ) who faithfully hears or describes (śraddhānvito anuśṛṇuyād atha varṇayed) the Lord's playful affairs (viṣṇoḥ idam vikrīḍitam) with the young gopīs of Vṛndāvana (vraja-vadhūbhir) will attain the Lord's pure devotional service (bhagavati parām bhaktim pratilabhya). Thus he will quickly become sober (acireṇa dhīraḥ) and conquer lust, the disease of the heart (kāmam hṛd-rogam apahinoty).

- By the tense of the verb pratilabhya (having attained) in this verse it is very clear bhakti first manifests in the stage where there are still lusty desires in the heart and then, after her manifestation, lusty desires are wiped out.

 Black i Destruction & Impurities
- This is due to the fact that bhakti is supremely independent (parama svatantra).
- Furthermore, though such impurities as kama may sometimes appear in the devotee, the scriptures never condemn that devotee at all:

If my devotee (mad-bhaktah) has not fully conquered his senses (ajitendriyaḥ), he may be harassed by material desires (viṣayair bādhyamānah api), but because of his generally strong bhakti (prāyaḥ pragalbhayā bhaktyā), he will not be defeated by sense gratification (viṣayair na abhibhūyate). (SB 11.14.18)

• The servants of Vishnu judged Ajamila as a devotee.

• Though the chanting of persons like Ajamila, who uttered the name of the Lord inadvertently out of affection for his son, must be considered nama-abhasa (not pure), still they are universally praised as devotees.

• Internal purity and purity of place, materials, etc. are necessary for the accomplishments of the karmis, jnanis and yogis, and their deficiency obstructs progress on those paths.

• Bhakti, however, is the very giver of life to these paths.

• Thus it is seen that in all respects, the paths of karma, jnana and yoga are dependent on bhakti.

• Bhakti, however, is independent.

• It neither requires any other means for its execution nor is it obstructed by any lack or fault.

Part-VII Bhakti is not one of the means of attaining Jnana

VII- Bhakti is not one of the means of attaining Jnana Verse – 12

Part-VIII Bhakti sometimes plays the role of Jnana's assistant only to support it

VIII- Bhakti sometimes plays the role of Jnana's assistant only to support it

• If jnana sometimes appears to take a superior position to bhakti, it is only because bhakti is mercifully playing the role of its assistant.

Juamonadera

• Upendra, the Supreme Personality of Godhead Himself, became subservient to Indra to give him support.

• Exalted, realized souls have confirmed that this revealed not His inferior position but, rather, His unsurpassed mercy.

VIII- Bhakti sometimes plays the role of Jnana's assistant only to support it Verse – 13

• In this manner, bhakti, though transcendental and supremely independent, being very merciful, accepts the mode of goodness (sattviki-bhakti) and becomes a limb of jnana just to give support to jnana.

• It is in a superior position due to spontaneous greed for everything pertaining to the Lord, and by genuine affection for the Lord in a particular relationship.

- Remembering such devotees, one should live in Vraja.
- If possible, one should physically live in Vṛndāvana, the place where Kṛṣṇa resided as Nanda's son.
- If one cannot do that, one should live there mentally.

The Second Shower of nectar II – The two types of Bhakti – Raga and Vaidhi Verse – 2

• The lower surface of the leaves is the domain of another king called vaidha (vaidhi-bhakti), being in a comparatively lower position.

• This is because its character has a tinge of roughness being generated from obedience to scriptural rules, and spontaneous deep affection for the Lord is lacking due to absence of an intimate relationship with Him.

Definition of Vaidhi Sadhana Bhakti

yatra rāgānavāptatvāt —> ousem pravṛttir upajāyate śāsanenaiva śāstrasya —> slostrās sā vaidhī bhaktir ucyate

Where the actions of bhakti arise (yatra pravṛttir upajāyate), not from the attainment of rāga (rāga anavāptatvāt), but by the teachings of scriptures (śāstrasya śāsanena eva), it is called vaidhi-bhakti (sā vaidhī bhaktir ucyate).

Definition of Vaidhi Sadhana Bhakti

• In this definition, vaidhi-bhakti is restricted to cases where bhakti is performed exclusively (eva) by teachings of scriptures, and not with an element of raga.

• With the attainment of rāga, there will also be some use of scriptural teachings as well, but it is not called vaidhibhakti.

But those whose sins have been destroyed (yeṣām janānām tv anta-gatam pāpam) by acts pleasing to the great souls (puṇya-karmaṇām), who are free of the ignorance arising from duality (te dvandva-moha-nirmuktā), worship Me with determination (bhajante mām dṛḍha-vratāḥ).

For the jīva averse to the Lord (īśād apetasya), there will be samsāra (bhayam syād) consisting of identity with body (viparyayo) and lack of identity with the soul (asmrtih), because of his absorption in the material coverings on the soul (dvitīyā abhiniveśataḥ), arising from the Lord's māyā (tan-māyayāto). Therefore, the intelligent person (budhah), taking guru as his Lord and very self (guru-devatātmā), should fully worship the Lord (tam īśam ābhajet) with pure bhakti (bhaktyaikayā).

However, the devotees should not fear bondage from samsāra. Fear naturally is destroyed for the person who starts bhakti.

Because of the false identity arising from imposition of body and senses (dvitīye), for the jīva averse to the Lord (īṣād apetasya), there will be fear or saṃsāra.

But there is no fear for the person faithful to the Lord:

(tāvad rāgādayāh stenā) (tāvat kārā-gṛham gṛhām)

(tāvan moho ˈnghri-nigad) (yāvat kṛṣṇa na te janāh)

O Kṛṣṇa! Until people become your devotees, their material attachments and desires remain thieves, their homes remain prisons, and their affectionate feelings for their family members remain foot-shackles. SB 10.14.36

That fear or samsāra takes two forms: the form of reversal and the form of forgetfulness.

Reversal means thinking oneself to be the body, different from the soul.

Forgetfulness means not remembering that one is soul.

A person becomes devoid of questions concerning the past and future such as "Who am I? What should I do? What was I before? What will I be after?" This fear arises by the māyā of the Lord.

It is said smrti-bhramśād buddhi-nāśo buddhi-nāśāt praṇaśyati: from loss of memory, intelligence is lost and from loss of intelligence one is destroyed. (BG 2.61)

Because of this (ataḥ), the intelligent person, getting his intelligence by the mercy of guru's lotus feet, should fully (ā) worship (bhajet) the Lord by pure (ekayā) bhakti devoid of other desires, devoid of karma or jñāna.

This person considers the guru to be as dear as the Lord and the self.

3. Vyudha vikalpa Store of excessive Speculation

Stage of excessive Speculation

3. Vyudha vikalpa

• "Shall I just spend my life happily in family life, making my wife and children Krishna conscious and worshipping the Lord?

• Or should I give them all up and go to Vrindavana and perfect myself by engaging full time in hearing and chanting with no distractions?

3. Vyudha vikalpa

• Shall I wait until the last stage, after enjoying all sorts of pleasures, when I have finally understood that the whole material world is simply a forest fire of affliction?

• Or should I renounce right now?

3. Vyudha vikalpa

Consider the following verses:

yopayāti śanair māyā yoṣid deva-vinirmitā
tām īkṣetātmano mṛtyum
tṛṇaiḥ kūpam ivāvṛtam

Māyā in the form of a woman (māyā yoṣid), created by the Lord (deva-vinirmitā), approaches the man gently (upayāti śanaih). One should see her as death (tām īkṣeta ātmano mṛtyum), like a well covered with grass (tṛṇaiḥ āvṛtam kūpam iva). (SB 3.31.40)

3. Vyudha vikalpa

yo dustyajān dāra-sutān suhṛd rājyam hṛdi-spṛśaḥ jahau yuvaiva malavad uttamaśloka-lālasaḥ

Bharata, who longed to serve the Lord (yah uttamaśloka-lālasaḥ), gave up wife, sons, friends and kingdom (jahau dāra-sutān suhṛd rājyaṁ) as if they were stool (malavad), though they were touching to the heart (hṛdi-spṛśaḥ) and thus difficult to give up at a young age (yuvaiva dustyajān). (SB 5.14.43)

3. Vyudha vikalpa

So, Should I thus give up unreliable family life while still young?

3. Vyudha vikalpa

On the other hand, it is not proper to renounce immediately.

Shouldn't I wait until the death of my old parents before renouncing?

3. Vyudha vikalpa

aho me pitarau vṛddhau bhāryā bālātmajātmajāḥ anāthā mām ṛte dīnāḥ katham jīvanti duḥkhitāḥ

"O my poor elderly parents (aho me pitarau vṛddhau), and my wife with a mere infant in her arms (bhāryā bālātmajā), and my other young children (ātmajāḥ)! Without me they have absolutely no one to protect them (anāthā mām ṛte) and will suffer unbearably (duḥkhitāḥ). How can my poor relatives possibly live without me (katham jīvanti dīnāḥ)?" (SB 11.17.57)

3. Vyudha vikalpa

•Moreover, the scripture says:

evam grhāśayākṣiptahṛdayo mūḍha-dhīr ayam atṛptas tān anudhyāyan mṛto 'ndham viśate tamaḥ

Thus, because of his foolish mentality (evam mūḍha-dhīh), a householder whose heart is overwhelmed by family attachment (ayam gṛha āśaya ākṣipta- hṛdayah) is never satisfied (atṛptah). Constantly meditating on his relatives (tān anudhyāyan), he dies (mṛtah) and enters into the darkness of ignorance (andham tamaḥ viśate). (SB 11.17.58)

3. Vyudha vikalpa

By such statements, the Lord depreciates such renunciation.

Therefore, for the time being, I will just work to keep my body alive.

Later, after satisfying all my desires, I will enter Vrindavana and engage in worship of the Lord twenty-four hours a day.

The Second Shower of nectar VIII – The Six Types of Anisthitha Bhajan Verse – 10 3. Vyudha vikalpa

• After all, the scriptures points out:

yogino vai mad-ātmanah na jñānam na ca vairāgyam prāyaḥ śreyo bhaved iha

Therefore (tasmād), for a devotee engaged in My loving service (mad-bhakti-yuktasya yoginah), with mind fixed on Me (madātmanaḥ), the cultivation of knowledge and renunciation (jñānaṃ ca vairāgyaṃ) is generally not the means of achieving the highest perfection (na prāyaḥ śreyo bhaved) within this world (iha).

3. Vyudha vikalpa

According to this text, renunciation is a fault for the culture of bhakti.

If it arises from bhakti itself, however, that renunciation is not a fault but an effect (anubhava) of bhakti and subordinate to it.

3. Vyudha vikalpa

• Of course, then there is the famous logic:

yad yad asramam agat sa bhiksukas tat tad anna paripurnam aiksat

In whatever ashram the sannyasi stayed, they always gave him more than enough to eat.

3. Vyudha vikalpa

In the life of renunciation there is no worry for maintenance, so maybe I should renounce.

3. Vyudha vikalpa

• But on the other hand:

tāvad rāgādayaḥ stenās tāvat kārā-gṛhaṁ gṛham tāvan moho 'ṅghri-nigaḍo yāvat kṛṣṇa na te janāḥ

My dear Lord Kṛṣṇa (kṛṣṇa), until people become Your devotees (yāvat na te janāḥ), their material attachments and desires remain thieves (tāvad rāgādayaḥ stenāh), their homes remain prisons (tāvat kārā-gṛham gṛham), and their affectionate feelings for their family members remain foot-shackles (tāvad moho aṅghrinigaḍo). (SB 10.14.36)

3. Vyudha vikalpa

Household life is a prison only for those who are attached, for a devotee, there is no harm in household life.

Thus shall I remain at home and engage in chanting or rather in hearing, or shall I engage in service?

Rather, as Ambarisha Maharaja remained in household life and performed all the angas of bhakti, I shall do likewise."

3. Vyudha vikalpa

In this way, the mind spends time vacillating between household life and renunciation.

When one imagines in this way all types of options, it is called vyudha vikalpa, or extensive speculation.

4. Vishaya sangara

unstershers is actually due to my uncontrolled mind of senses.

viṣayāviṣṭa-cittānām viṣṇv-āveśaḥ sudūratah | vāruṇī-dig-gatam vastu vrajann aindrīm kim āpnuyāt

One whose heart is absorbed in materialism is far from obtaining devotion to Vishnu. Can a man by going east obtain something which is in the west?

4. Vishaya sangara

Understanding that material enjoyment is forcibly carrying him away and impairing his steadiness in serving Krishna, the devotee resolves to renounce his addictions and take shelter of the Holy Name.

 But many times, his attempts at renunciation often end in enjoying what he is trying to renounce. • Such a person is described in the Bhagavatam

jāta-śraddho mat-kathāsu nirviṇṇaḥ sarva-karmasu veda duḥkhātmakaṁ kāmān parityāge 'py anīśvaraḥ

Even though he is sometimes engaged in sense enjoyment (juṣamāṇaś ca tān kāmān), My devotee knows that all sense gratification leads to a miserable result (duḥkha udarkāmś), and he sincerely repents such activities (ca garhayan). Finally, it is well-known that the very nature of bhakti is to be attractive, so all types of people become attracted to the devotee, the abode of bhakti.

And, as the old adage goes, "By the attraction of the populace one becomes wealthy."

Bhakti produces much opportunity for material gain, worship and position (labha, puja, pratishtha).

Performing activities, or seeking one's pleasure (ranga) amidst these weed-like facilities, which are but small waves (taranga) in the ocean of bhakti, is called taranga rangini, delighting in material facilities.

- The shelters of lust are the senses, the mind and intelligence, which are respectively increasing difficult to conquer.

• The senses may be difficult to control, but they are easier to conquer than the other items.

• Therefore, first the senses should be conquered; you should control the senses.

Kill this ferocious lust (pāpmānam). Mechanica Des better than spontaneous Schiene

• This means that by restricting the senses, after some time the mind will become freed of lust.

• Here Krsna is stating that the senses should be controlled by proper engagement, but not stopped, and this will help control the mind from dwelling on enjoyment.

The disciple should learn to develop attraction for the glories of the Lord (pāvanam bhagavad-yaśaḥ) through discussions with other devotees (paraspara anukathanam). He will experience happiness from their association (mitho ratir mithas tuṣṭir) and mutually they will become detached from material enjoyment (nivṛttir mitha ātmanah).

Taking shelter of purifying discussions where there is glorification of the Lord, one will have mutual enjoyment without rivalry (mithaḥ ratiḥ).

One will have happiness arising from association with other devotees.

Mutually one will become detached from material enjoyment—from one's wife and other things unfavorable for devotional development.

This means "If you are becoming detached, I also will become detached starting from today."

The disciple should learn all of this.

Anartha Nivrtti

Part-I The Four Kinds of Anarthas

I - The Four Kinds of Anarthas Verse – 1

- This chapter discusses anartha-nivṛtti, the cessation of unwanted desires. (Anartha means unwanted desires in the heart, and nivṛtti means to cease.) There are four kinds of anartha:
 - (1) Duskrtottha (anarthas coming from sinful activities)
 - (2) Sukrtottha (anarthas coming from pious deeds)
 - (3) Aparadhottha (anarthas coming from offences)
 - (4) Bhaktyuttha (anarthas coming from devotional service)

The Third Shower of Nectar I - The Four Kinds of Anarthas

Verse – 1

• Anarthas arising from previous sinful activities (Duskrtottha) fall in the category of the five types of klesha previously mentioned: ignorance, false ego, attachment, hatred and fear of death.

• Anarthas arising from pious activities (Sukrtottha) are the addictions to the enjoyments which arise from pious action.

• Some sages include the anarthas arising from pious activities under the categories of the kleshas mentioned above.

The Third Shower of Nectar I - The Four Kinds of Anarthas Verse – 1

• Anarthas which arise from offenses refers to those arising from the nama aparadhas, not seva aparadhas (such as entering the temple in a palanquin or with shoes).

Nama aparadha — offenses committee due to faults attitute (dissesses)

Seva acaradha — indoventent offenses.

• The acharyas have discerned that seva aparadhas do not usually have effect being nullified by chanting the Name, by recitation of stotras which have the power to cancel the effect of any seva aparadha and by constant service.

I - The Four Kinds of Anarthas Verse – 1

• Constant engagement in these activities practically nips in the bud the slightest effect of seva aparadha.

Nama ararábla -> Loge our devotional credits

- However, one should not become careless and take advantage of being protected from all effect of seva aparadha by the above measures.
 - Then this seva aparadha becomes nama aparadha an
- Then this seva aparadha becomes nama aparadha, an anartha which will obstruct his progress.

I - The Four Kinds of Anarthas

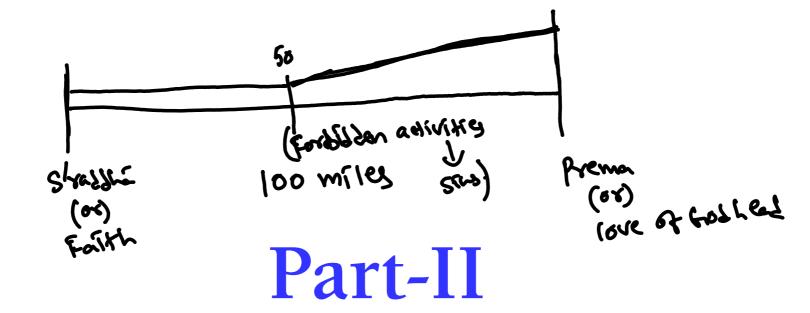

• He is guilty of the nama aparadha of committing sin on the strength of the Holy Name, namno balad yasya hi papabuddhi.

• The word nama in the phrase nama aparadha is being used to represent all the angas of bhakti that destroy sin and aparadha, of which the Holy Name is the primary anga.

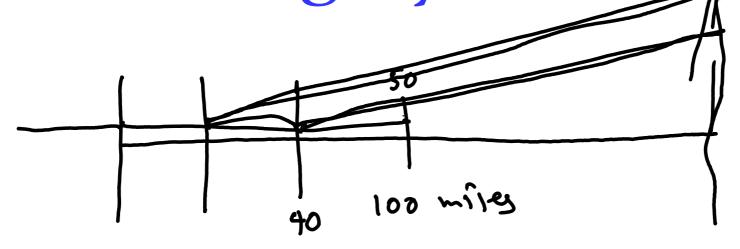

I - The Four Kinds of Anarthas Verse – 1

• Even according to dharma shastra (scriptures dealing with codes of karma), one should not commit sin knowing that he can be exempted from the effect by prayascitta (remedial measures for commission of sin).

• Then the effect of the sin will not be destroyed but rather increased.

Offenses are not in the category of Sinst

• On the other hand, let us consider the force of these types of scriptural statements:

na hy angopakrame dhvamso mad-dharmasyoddhavānv api mayā vyavasitah samyan nirgunatvād anāśiṣaḥ

My dear Uddhava (anga uddhava), because I have personally established it (mayā vyavasitaḥ samyak), this process of devotional service unto Me (mad-dharmasya) is transcendental and free from any material motivation (nirguṇatvād anāśiṣaḥ). Certainly a devotee never suffers even the slightest loss (na hy anu api dhvamso) by adopting this process (mad-dharmasya upakrame). (SB 11.29.20)

dasamo 'yam japa-matrena siddhidah

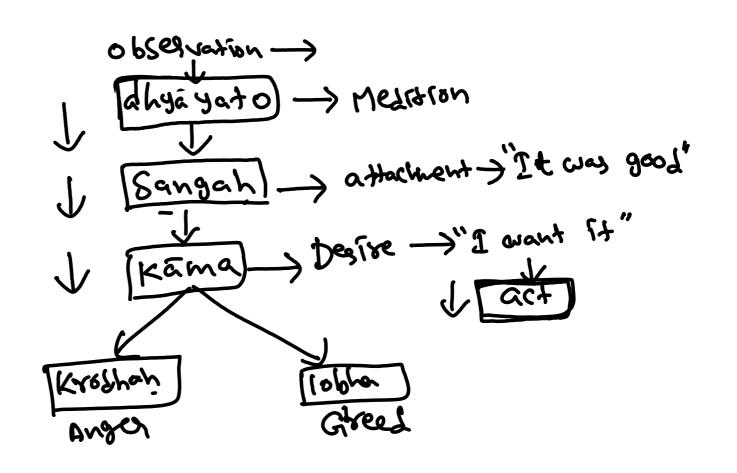

Simply by only reciting this ten-syllable mantra it will give perfection.

• By neglecting or not completing some of the angas of bhakti does it not produce nama aparadha?

Never! Committing sin on the strength of the Holy Name refers to the intentional commission of sin thinking that the power of devotional activities will nullify the bad effects.

• Sin refers to those actions condemned by the scriptures requiring remedial measures. —> Kasma gastas

• Unlike the path of karma, where failure to perform the rite perfectly is condemned, on the path of bhakti, the shastra never condemns failure to perform all the angas.

b) Un [Mentiona]

c) Greless.

• On this point there is no fear of an offense which will deprive one of results.

Even ignorant living entities (aviduṣām pumsām) can very easily come to know the Supreme Lord (añjaḥ hy ātma-labdhaye) if they adopt those means prescribed by the Supreme Lord Himself (ye vai bhagavatā proktā upāyā). The process recommended by the Lord is to be known as bhāgavata-dharma, or devotional service to the Supreme Personality of Godhead (viddhi bhāgavatān hi tān).

O King (rājan), one who accepts this process of devotional service to the Supreme Personality of Godhead (yān āsthāya narah) will never blunder on his path (na pramādyeta karhicit) in this world (iha). Even while running with eyes closed (dhāvan nimīlya vā netre), he will never trip or fall (na skhalen na pated iha).

• Here the word nimilya (closing the eyes) means the person has eyes (he is not blind) but has closed them.

• The word dhavan (running) means proceeding rapidly placing the feet in an overstepping, unconventional manner.

• These are the direct meanings.

• This verse refers to a person who takes shelter of devotional service and is practicing the primary angas.

• The meaning is that such a person suffers no loss of results nor is he deprived of the goal, even if knowing all the angas of bhakti, he neglects to perform some of the secondary angas as if ignorant.

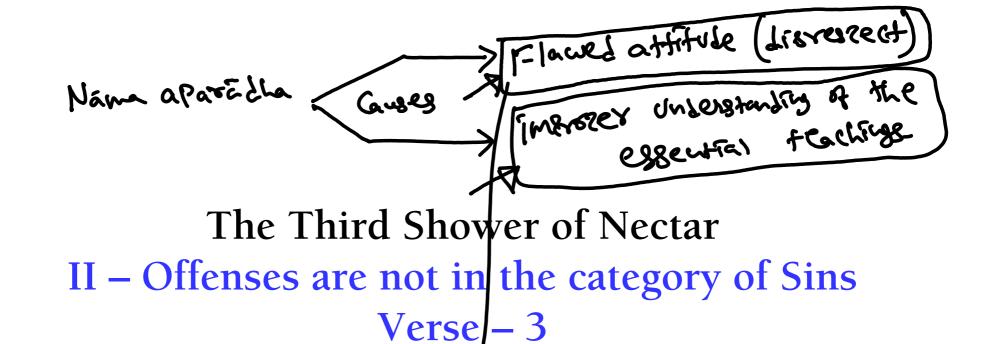

• Closing the eyes does not mean ignorance of scripture (shruti and smriti, considered as one's two eyes) for that contradicts the direct meaning.

- One should carefully consider the meaning of closing the eyes and running (intentionally neglecting some of the angas of bhakti, and eagerly pursuing the goal).

 Running
- This and any actions resulting from that mode of progress, does not allow the devotee to commit the thirty-two seva aparadhas.

• The verse describes a person who has sincerely taken shelter of the process of bhakti as outlined by the Lord Himself. (In that case there is no question of intentional seva aparadha).

The thirty-two seva aparadhas, beginning with entering the temple on a palanquin or while wearing shoes, etc., should never be intentionally committed.

• For in the scriptures, a person who intentionally commits a seva aparadha is condemned as a two-legged animal: harer apy aparādhān yaḥ kuryād dvipadapāmśanaḥ.

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

• First let us define what sādhu or Vaiṣṇava is.

• In the Eleventh Canto of the Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam, Kṛṣṇa enumerates to Uddhava the characteristics of a sādhu:

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

- dayālu—merciful,
- sahiṣṇu—tolerant,
- sama—equal,
- droha-śūnya-vrata—penance without injury to the body,
- satya-sāra—truthfulness,
- viśuddhātmā—parified,
- parahita-rata—engaged in the welfare of mankind,
- kāme akṣubhita-buddhi—intelligence free from lust,
- danta—restrained,
- akiñcana—devoid of concept of ownership,
- mrdu—gentle,
- śuci—clean,
- parimita-bhojī—regulated eating and other habits,

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

- śāntamān—peaceful,
- anīha—apathy to materialism,
- dhṛimān—patience,
- sthira—steadiness.
- apramatta—attentive, alert,
- sugambhira—very grave,
- vijita-ṣaḍguṇa—conquering over the six gunas, (hunger, thirst, lamentation, envy, old age and death),
- amānī—not expecting honor from others,
- mānada—giving respect to others,
- dakṣa—skillful,
- avāñcaka—nonhypocritical,
- jñānī—knowledgeable of the scriptures.

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

• By these characteristics one can know who is a sādhu.

• However, here there are two types of characteristics: principal and marginal.

• The principal characteristic is exclusive surrender to Kṛṣṇa, while all others are dependent upon it.

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

• By some good fortune one may get the association of Vaiṣṇavas, and then attain a taste for the name, chant the name and take shelter of Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet.

This becomes the chief characteristic, and by continuing to chant the name, all the other characteristics make their appearance.

Therefore they are called marginal or accompanying.

Who is a Sadhu or Vaisnava?

• The chief characteristic of a sādhu is his complete surrender to Krsna, which is not dependent on a certain varna or āśrama.

• "This principal characteristic will prevail in all sādhus, no matter what varṇa or āśrama, gṛhastha or sannyāsī.

• However, according to āśrama or varna, the secondary characteristics will differ to some degree.

 - 2. Previous sins or faults in this life

Don't Criticize a Sadhu based on his secondary Qualities – Bhakti will purify him

• And even if there appears some bad element or fault in a person, if he has the chief characteristic, surrender to Kṛṣṇa, he must be considered a sādhu, and to be respected and served by all.

• This is Kṛṣṇa's statement in Bhagavad-gītā.

Don't Criticize a Sadhu based on his secondary Qualities – Bhakti will purify him

Don't Criticize a Sadhu based on his secondary Qualities – Bhakti will purify him

• Of course, if the materialist sees those traces of sin in a Vaiṣṇava sādhu, he may consider that the sādhu is just like a materialistic sinner.

• If he should criticize the sādhu because the sādhu has a trace of sin coming from previous sinful activity, he is committing sādhu-nindā.

Non-devolutional association. Theological Unholy association.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

"Because association with those who are not devotees is bound to produce disrespect for devotees (sādhunindā), the devotee is careful to avoid such association.

• Materialistic association or asat-sanga is of two types: association with women and association with those devoid of devotion to the Lord.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

 Association with women means associating with women not according to Vedic tradition.

• This association with women which is not authorized by scripture is divided into association with women outside of marriage for the purpose of sex life and association within marriage where one is controlled by one's wife.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

• Thus, only if one is married according to prescribed rules and is following the rules for married life, in which the wife is submissive to the husband and the husband acts as a sādhu, is the association considered bona fide.

Other types of association are considered asat.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

• "The second type of asat association, association with nondevotees, is of three types: Oassociation with māyāvādīs, association with pretenders, and association with atheists.

• Māyāvādīs believe that the Lord and the jīvas are both temporary entities, and that the Lord's mūrtī form is material.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

• The pretenders, though without genuine devotion or renunciation, pretend to be devotees to make a living.

• The atheists do not believe in any form of God.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

• Now these people may claim to be devotees, and may be accepted by the public as such, but if one rejects such people, it is not considered sādhu-nindā.

• Furthermore, one who criticizes a person who gives up these asat people should also be rejected and avoided.

Asat Sangha is the main cause of Sadhu Ninda

• Therefore, the serious devotee who gives up asat-sanga, which causes sādhu-nindā, and exclusively takes shelter in the name, will certainly receive the treasure of prema.

• "It may be observed that in order to proceed properly to prema, one must be able to distinguish the devotee from the nondevotee.

How to Treat a Vaisnava

- One must furthermore be able to distinguish the types of Vaiṣṇavas according to their spiritual advancement.

How to Treat a Vaisnava

7 Clanting without Exect faith, • "The kanistha-bhakta performs his devotional service at the stage of nāmābhāsa, whereas the madhyama Vaisnava is actually qualified for the real holy name, and can understand and discern the various offenses in chanting the holy name.

• The uttama adhikārī is above committing offense, as he sees Kṛṣṇa expanded everywhere.

How to Treat a Vaisnava

"It can be seen that it is important for the practitioner of bhakti—whether a kaniṣṭha or madhyama bhakta—to understand in his performance of sādhana, his own position in devotional service according to his internal purity.

How to Treat a Vaisnava

• By doing this one can avoid nondevotees (asat-sanga), and by this one can advance further.

• Therefore it is important that one come to the position of madhyama bhakta, one who is qualified to make these distinctions.

How to Treat a Vaisnava

• The typical activities of a real devotee (madhyama bhakta) are to avoid sadhu-ninda and to take association of sādhus, serve sādhus and give knowledge to the innocent jīvas, while performing nāmasankīrtana.

Part-III The Ten Nama-Aparadhas

a) Vaisnava Ninda

Rectification of the Offense

Rectification of the Offense

STEP-1: Repentance

• If by chance this offense occurs, the person should repent, "Oh, I am such a low class person, I have committed an offense to a saintly person!"

Rectification of the Offense

• A person who has been burned by fire seeks relief in fire (kṛśānau śāmyati taptaḥ kṛśānunā evāyam).

• According to this logic, he should nullify the offense by lamenting.

Step-2: Satisfying the Vaisnava

Then, he should further seek to nullify the offense by resolving to come before the Vaishnava, falling at his feet, and satisfying him by offering his obeisances, praises and respects.

Continuer etenting)

Come before vaishore

Serve him.

3 Fall @ his feet.

4) Praise

Rectification of the Offense

Step-3: Taking Shelter of Continuous Nama- Sankirtana

- Sometimes the offense is so grievous that the Vaishnava's anger does not die.
- In extreme remorse, thinking himself most unfortunate and bound for millions of years in hell for his offense, he should give up everything and take full shelter of continuous nama sankirtana.
- By the divine power of nama kirtana, certainly, in time that person will be delivered from his offense.

Rectification of the Offense

Step 1 and 2 cannot be skipped

However, he should not justify himself by arguing that shastra says, nāmāparādha-yuktānām nāmāny eva haranty agham: The Holy Name alone is sufficient to deliver an offender.

• So what is the need of humbling himself by offering repeated respects and service to the Vaishnava that he has offended?

This type of mentality makes him guilty of further offense.

Sadhu-Ninda does not discriminate between Vaisnavas

•Nor should one be of the mentality to think that the offense of sadhu ninda discriminates between types of Vaishnavas.

•It does not refer only to one who is fully and perfectly qualified with all the qualities mentioned in scripture, such as mercifulness, never harming others, and forgiving to all living entities: kṛpālur akṛta-drohas titikṣuḥ sarva-dehinām (SB 11.11.29).

You cannot minimize your offenses by finding fault in the sadhu

- •A person cannot minimize his offense by pointing out some defect in the devotee.
- •In answer the scriptures say: sarvācāra-vivarjitāḥ śaṭha-dhiyo vrātyā jagad-vañcakāḥ, even a person who is of very bad character a cheater, devoid of proper behavior, malicious, devoid of samskaras, and full of worldly desires, if he surrenders to the Lord, must be considered a sadhu. What to speak of a pure Vaishnava.

The dust of the Vaisnava's feet does not tolerate the offenses

- Sometimes a serious offense has been committed against a Vaishnava, but the Vaishnava does not become angry because of his exalted nature.
- Still the offender should fall at that devotee's feet and seek ways of pleasing him to purify himself.
- Though the Vaishnava may forgive offenses, the dust of his feet does not tolerate the offenses and delivers the fruits of the offense on the guilty person.

Rectification of the Offense

For it is said:

nāścaryam etad yad asatsu sarvadā mahad-vinindā kuṇapātma-vādiṣu serṣyam mahāpūruṣa-pāda-pāmsubhir nirasta-tejaḥsu tad eva śobhanam

It is not surprising (na āścaryam) that the materialists (etad asatsu), claiming that the gross body is the soul (kuṇapātma-vādiṣu), constantly criticize the devotees (sarvadā mahad-vinindā) with envy (sa īrṣyam) and become deprived of their powers (nirasta-tejaḥsu) by the dust from the feet of the great devotees (mahāpūruṣa-pāda-pāmsubhir). That glory of that criticism is the result it gives (tad eva śobhanam). (SB 4.4.13)

Don't quote Jagai-Madhai episode to justify offense

• Conventional rules cannot be applied, however, to the powerful, spontaneous, most elevated mahabhagavatas who may sometimes bestow fathomless mercy even to the most undeserving or offensive.

• For instance, though Jada Bharata was made to carry Rahugana's palanquin and the King let loose a torrent of harsh words on him, Jada Bharata bestowed his mercy.

Don't quote Jagai-Madhai episode to justify offense

• In a similar way, Chediraja, the Vasu who flew in the sky, showed mercy to the atheist heretic daityas who had come to do him violence.

In Mahabharata there is a story of how Chediraja, on taking the side of the demigods who were arguing with some brahmarishis, was cursed by them to fall from his flying chariot to Patala-loka where he continued to perform his bhajana.

Don't quote Jagai-Madhai episode to justify offense

• In the same way, Shri Nityananda showed mercy to Madhai, even though the most sinful Madhai had injured His forehead causing blood to flow.

• The offense of guror avajna, or disrespect to guru, the third aparadha, may be considered in the same way as the first aparadha.

• Though such devotees are difficult to see, many exist.

• Without doing so, even worshiping the deity forms of the Lord will not give any result.

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

The Third Shower of Nectar Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

 Now we'll consider the second aparadha of misunderstanding the position of Vishnu, Shiva and demigods.

- Conscious beings (chaitanya) are of two types:
 - a) Independent Ishvara Chaitanya
 - b) Dependent Jiva Chaitanya

The Third Shower of Nectar Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• The first type of ishvara is called by such names as Narayana, Hari, etc.:

harir hi nirguṇaḥ sākṣat puruṣaḥ prakṛteḥ paraḥ

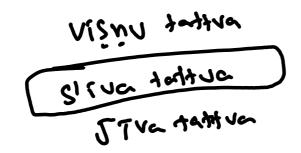

It is Hari who is directly the non-material Lord transcendental to material nature. (SB 10.88.5)

The Third Shower of Nectar Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• The second type of ishvara is called by such names as Shiva.

sivah sakti-yutah sasvat tri-lingo guna-samvrtah

Shiva voluntarily accepts the three gunas and appears to be covered by them. (SB 10.88.3)

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• Though Shiva appears to be covered by the gunas, one should not think that he is in the category of jiva for Brahma-samhita says:

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

kṣīram yathā dadhi vikāra-viśesa-yogāt sañjāyate na hi tataḥ pṛthag asti hetoḥ yaḥ śambhutām api tathā samupaiti kāryād govindam ādi-purusam tam aham bhajāmi

Shiva is a transformation of the Lord, just as yogurt is a transformation of milk. (Brahma-samhita 5.45)

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• In the Puranas and other scriptures as well, Shiva is glorified as Ishvara.

• In the Bhagavatam it is said:

sattvam rajas tama iti prakṛter guṇās tair yuktaḥ parama-puruṣa eka ihāsya dhatte | sthity-ādaye hari-viriñci-hareti samjñāh śreyāmsi tatra khalu sattva-tanor nṛṇām syuḥ

The one supreme purusa (parama-purusa ekah), accepting the guṇas of prakṛti (prakṛter guṇās tair yuktaḥ) known as sattva, rajas and tamas (sattvam rajas tama iti), for (creation), (maintenance) and destruction) (sthity-ādaye), is called Viṣṇu, Brahmā and Śiva (hari-viriñci-hareti samjñāḥ). The best results (śreyāmsi) for the devotees (nṛṇām) will come (khalu syuḥ) from Viṣṇu with śuddha-sattva body (sattva-tanoh). (SB 1.2.23)

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• In this sloka it is also generally understood that Brahma may also be considered as ishvara.

• But Brahma's position as ishvara or lord should be understood as power invested in a jiva by the Supreme Lord (ishvara-avesha)

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

bhāsvān yathāśma-śakaleşu nijeşu tejaḥ svīyam kiyat prakaṭayaty api tadvad atra brahmā ya eṣa jagad-aṇḍa-vidhāna-kartā govindam ādi-puruṣam tam aham bhajāmi

I adore the primeval Lord, Govinda (govindam ādi-puruṣam tam aham bhajāmi), from whom the separated subjective portion Brahmā receives his power for the regulation of the mundane world (brahmā)ya eṣa jagad-aṇḍa-vidhāna-kartā), just as the sun (yathā bhāsvān) manifests a portion of his own light (nijeṣu tejaḥ prakaṭayaty) in all the effulgent gems) (aśma-śakaleṣu) that bear such names as sūrya-kāntā (svīyam kiyat). (Brahma Samhita)

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

One must discern who is worthy of worship or not on the basis of nirguna and saguna, that is, with no material qualities (Vishnu) and with a touch of material qualities (Shiva, Brahma, etc.).

Being different types of chaitanya Brahma and Vishnu

Being different types of chaitanya. Brahma and Vishnu are completely distinct, Brahma is jiva and Vishnu is ishvara.

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• Sometimes, Brahma and Vishnu are described as identical in the Puranas.

• One should, however, understand this statement by the example of the sun (Vishnu) and the jewel suryakanta (Brahma) which is invested with the light of the sun.

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

Suryakanta is like a magnifying glass which takes the rays of the sun and manifests the heat of the sun by burning paper, etc.

• In this way only, Brahma is considered non-different.

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• In some mahakalpas, even Shiva is a jiva like Brahma invested with power by the Lord:

kvacij jīva-viśeṣatvam harasyoktam vidher iva

As in Brahma's case (vidher iva), sometimes a particular jiva (kvacid jīva) takes the role of Shiva (haraṣya viśeṣatvam uktam).

Understanding the Gradation of Conscious Living Entities

• Thus, Shiva is sometimes classed with Brahma in such statements as:

yas tu nārāyaṇam devam brahma-rudrādi-daivataiḥ samatvenaiva vīkṣeta sa pāṣaṇḍī bhaved dhruvam ||

A person who considers Narayana (yas tu vīkṣeta nārāyaṇam devam) as equivalent to Brahma, Shiva and the other devatas (brahma-rudrādi-daivataiḥ samatvena) is a low rascal (sa pāṣaṇḍī bhaved dhruvam). (Hari Bhakti Vilasa 1.73)

• The second are the demigods, who have the same fifty qualities but to a greater degree.

• In addition, Śiva possesses five more qualities.

Qualities of Various Conscious Jivas

• Visnu has all these qualities plus five more which are not found in other living entities.

- In this way we can see that Viṣṇu or Nārāyana, with sixty qualities, is the Lord, and Śiva and the demigods are His servants.
- Greater than the ordinary jīvas are the demigods and Śiva, and greater than Śiva is Visnu, who is the Lord of the jīvas and the Lord of the demigods.

The four extraordinary qualities possessed by Govinda alone are as follows.

1.He is a wave-filled ocean (kallola-vāridhiḥ) of the most astonishing display of pastimes (sarvādbhuta-camatkāra-līlā).

2.He is surrounded by loving associates (priya-maṇḍalaḥ) decorated with (maṇḍita) incomparably sweet prema (atulya-madhura-prema).

Qualities of Various Conscious Jivas

• Those who have not thoroughly researched in the matter say that Vishnu is the Lord, not Shiva; or that Shiva is the Lord, not Vishnu.

• That since I am a devotee of Vishnu, I will not give regard to Shiva, or visa versa.

• Such people, deliberately involving themselves in such arguments, also commit nama aparadha.

Qualities of Various Conscious Jivas

• If such offenders can become enlightened by a devotee with thorough knowledge of the matter, then they can realize in what way Shiva and Vishnu are non-different.

• With this realization, and by performing nama kirtana, the person can nullify his offense.

b) Misunderstanding the Position of Visnu and the Demigods

Other Common Misunderstandings

The Third Shower of Nectar Other Common Misunderstandings

• "Some people claim that the Brahman without qualities takes on qualities when it expands as Brahmā, Viṣṇu and Śiva.

• However, the conclusion of scripture is that Nārāyaṇa is supreme, and is the cause of Brahmā and Śiva.

• Whoever rejects Visnu as the supreme controller and takes to worship of demigods, falls into the world of illusion.

Other Common Misunderstandings

• "Other people claim that since Visnu is all pervading throughout the universe and is present in the demigods as well, one can worship Visnu by worshiping all the demigods.

• But this is not the ruling in the scriptures.

• Rather, this type of activity is forbidden.

Other Common Misunderstandings

• By worshiping Viṣṇu all other worship is perfected.

• Just as by giving water to the root of a tree the branches become satisfied; by worshiping Viṣṇu exclusively, all worship is covered.

• This is the Vedic conclusion, but unfortunately, the fools reject this precept.

Other Common Misunderstandings

• Under the influence of māyāvādī philosophy, the living entities of Kali-yuga put Viṣṇu on the same level as the demigods.

• In truth, however, the demigods give only limited result, whereas worship of Viṣṇu yields all results.

• If the materialists can understand this truth, they will take to Visnu worship and achieve all results.

b) Misunderstanding the Position of Visnu and the Demigods

Instructions to House-Holders

Instructions to House-Holders

"How should a householder in the varṇāśrama system act?

• Generally he should give up worrying about inferior obligations and simply worship Kṛṣṇa.

• In other words, in all the samskāras from insemination to funeral rites, Krsna should be worshiped, using appropriate mantras from the Vedas.

Instructions to House-Holders

"How should a householder in the varṇāśrama system act?

• One should worship the Vaiṣṇavas and Viṣṇu directly and worship the forefathers by giving them prasāda from Viṣṇu.

• To directly worship the demigods as the māyāvādīs do will only shorten one's life.

"How should a householder in the varṇāśrama system act?

• To think that the demigods are independent of Viṣṇu is an offense.

• Since the demigods take their existence from Viṣṇu, in them one cannot find full perfection.

• Even the controlling powers of Brahmā, Gaņeśa and Sūrya come from Kṛṣṇa.

"How should a householder in the varṇāśrama system act?

They do not have independent power.

• Therefore the grhastha Vaisnava should recognize one supreme Lord Visnu, and regard the demigods as His dependent energies.

"How should a householder in the varṇāśrama system act?

• Thus the grhastha, though following the rules and customs prescribed in his caste, will give up all those rules which include demigod worship, aimed at sense gratification, and hold firmly to the path of bhakti, worshiping Him alone in all cases where worship is prescribed.

"How should a householder in the varṇāśrama system act?

• "In this way the grhastha, with his mind fixed on devotion to Kṛṣṇa, will perform the saṃskāras of his caste, satisfy the ancestors by Viṣṇu prasāda offerings, and offer oblations to the demigods by recognizing them as the devotees of Kṛṣṇa, and then taking prasāda himself.

- He knows that by worshiping Krsna and the Vaiṣṇava all results are attained.
- Thus he always chants the holy name, being careful to avoid offenses such as the second aparadha.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

below to the Second Offense

selection to the Second Offen dhiyā bhinnam paśyet sa khalu hari-nāmāhita-karaḥ a bhimam. See the containy

In this material world, the holy name of Vișnu is allauspicious. Vișnu's name, form, qualities and pastimes are all transcendental, absolute knowledge. Therefore, if one tries to separate the Absolute Personality of Godhead from His holy name or His transcendental form, qualities and pastimes, thinking them to be material, that is offensive.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• "There is one other offense derived from not accepting Viṣṇu as the supreme, one without a second, or advayatattva.

• Being the (advaya-tattya), Viṣṇu, by His inconceivable energies, possesses inherently name, form and qualities which cannot be considered separate from Him.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• To consider the name, etc. as different from the Lord is to consider the Lord and the name on a material level.

• This concept of duality is offensive.

• At the stage of nāmābhāsa one may hold this conception unconsciously from lack of knowledge or faith, but it is impossible to hold this conception at the stage of prema.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• This anartha can be removed by the mercy of the bona fide guru who will guide the practitioner in sādhana bhakti so that the śuddha-nāma, the pure name, is revealed.

• "By material speculation one can bring about this concept of duality in the Lord, and it can become a serious offense which is difficult to remove.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• Thus, in the case of the māyāvādīs, holding to this concept is an aparādha.

• The māyāvādīs claim that the impersonal Brahman is the supreme truth, without variety, character or energies, without form or beauty, without change or activity, simply pure existence.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

magayadīs

• For them, the name and form of Viṣṇu are creations of māyā, the material energy of illusion.

• When a person can overcome illusion, then Visnu simply merges into the impersonal Brahman, losing individual identity.

• This is all simply bad logic, based on atheism.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• To claim that the Supreme Truth is without all inconceivable transcendental energies, or is unable to possess character, is madness.

- There may be some confusion of what to call the Supreme Truth—Brahman or Viṣṇu—but in either case, the highest realization must be God with energies and personality.
- That is the Vedic conclusion.

The Third Shower of Nectar Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• "Actually Visnu has both features in Himself: nirviśeṣa and saviśeṣa, without variety and with variety.

• This is possible by the inconceivable power of God, the Supreme Powerful.

• All opposites are assimilated without difficulty.

• By this inconceivable power the Supreme One can exist with variety, beauty and līlā.

The Third Shower of Nectar Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• "Of course, the jīva, being naturally of small intelligence as a particle of God, cannot fully understand the nature of the Lord's inconceivable power.

• In the attempt to establish a concept of the Supreme Truth by his own intelligence, the jīva takes shelter of material logic and accepts the secondary feature of the Lord, or impersonal Brahman, which is a state of unity and peace, as the supreme.

Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• By rejecting the lotus feet of Viṣṇu, who is worshiped by the demigods, and by then being bound up in a state of Brahman, he cannot distinguish what is good or bad for his own welfare.

• "But a person who can understand that the Absolute Truth can exist with form and variety in a pure transcendental state, can properly see that Viṣṇu, His name and qualities are all one and inseparable from Him...

The Third Shower of Nectar Another Understanding of the Second Offense

• This concept of Krsna with personality is actual knowledge.

• With this understanding one can take to chanting the holy name, knowing that it is Kṛṣṇa Himself.

• Thus one must avoid the offense of thinking materially that Viṣṇu and His name, form, etc. are different, and of thinking that other living entities, such as the demigods, have an existence separate from Viṣṇu.

Part-III The Ten Nama-Aparadhas

b) Misunderstanding the Position of Visnu and the Demigods

Summary of the Second Offense

Summary of the Second Offense

• "To summarize, whoever is solely devoted to Kṛṣṇa simply worships Kṛṣṇa and gives up all other worship.

• He does not criticize the demigods or the scriptures which support the worship of the demigods, but respects the demigods as the servants of Kṛṣṇa.

The Third Shower of Nectar Summary of the Second Offense

• Some scriptures may establish demigods as supreme to establish belief in different categories of human beings, in order to raise them through regulation to the point of coming to faith in Kṛṣṇa and bhakti.

• The true Vaiṣṇava will see the function of the demigods and their respective scriptures in proper perspective.

Criticism of Kṛṣṇa's servants, the demigods, is also offensive.

Summary of the Second Offense

• "Since it is obligatory for the householder to worship the demigods according to his caste, he will worship the demigods and forefathers by offering them the remnants from their Lord, Kṛṣṇa.

• Similarly, when the devotee sees the mūrtī of a demigod, he will pay respects to the demigod, seeing the demigod as a Vaiṣṇava.

The Third Shower of Nectar Summary of the Second Offense

• However the devotee will not accept the prasāda remnants of an offering that a māyāvādī has made to Viṣṇu.

• Because the māyāvādī's chanting and worship are both offensive, the Lord never accepts his offering.

• Also to accept offerings made directly to the demigods is an offense to Viṣṇu and obstructs the path of pure devotional service.

The Third Shower of Nectar Summary of the Second Offense

• But by worshiping Kṛṣṇa, the real devotee will give the demigods the Lord's prasāda out of respect.

• Such worship, and receiving such prasāda, is not offensive.

• In this way, the devotee avoids the second offense in chanting the name, and by continuing this process correctly, he achieves love of God.

b) Misunderstanding the Position of Visnu and the Demigods

Rectification of the Second Offense

The Third Shower of Nectar Rectification of the Second Offense

• "If by accident, one should happen to turn from accepting Viṣṇu as supreme, one should be repentent and take shelter of Viṣṇu and be careful not to commit the offense again.

• By remembering Kṛṣṇa, by remembering His name and chanting His name, the offense will disappear.

The Third Shower of Nectar Rectification of the Second Offense

• According to the Vedic literature, there is no prāyaścitta (reformatory process or atonement) more effective than this.

• This is because the Lord is an ocean of mercy and an ocean of forgiveness.

• Similarly, the devotee also forgives past faults."

Four Faults of Human Beings

- 1. Karaṇa-pāṭava (limited perception)
- 2/Bhrama (illusion)
- 3 Vipralīpsa (desire to report something other than what is perceived)
- 4. Pramada (inattention of the senses)

The Third Shower of Nectar Superiority of Sabda Pramana

• Because of these four defects, one cannot possibly perceive anything beyond the material level of unconscious matter.

• The spiritual realm would be unapproachable without the aid of Kṛṣṇa.

• Therefore Kṛṣṇa has given the four Vedas, which are beyond the four faults of the senses, and by these alone can man progress towards the spiritual goal.

C) Criticism of Scriptures

Contents of the Scriptures

"What are the contents of the scriptures?

• The wise man will understand that karma and jñāna are secondary and worthless as independent processes and that the path of bhakti is the essence.

• The Vedas stand as the authoritative guide and reference (pramāṇa) and they prove nine different topics, which may be classified into sambandha, abhidheya and prayojana.

• "These nine principles may be summarized as follows:

Sambandha

1 There is one Supreme Lord, Viṣṇu.

2. The Lord is possessor of all energies.

3 Kṛṣṇa is the fountainhead of all rasas and is situated in His dhāma where He eternally gives joy to the jīvas

Sambandha

4 The jīvas are particles of the Lord, unlimited in number, infinitesimal in size, but conscious.

5. Some jīvas are eternally bound in the material universes, being attracted by illusory pleasure.

6. Some jīvas are eternally liberated and engaged in worshiping Kṛṣṇa; they reside with Him as associates in the spiritual sky and experience prema.

Sambandha

7. Kṛṣṇa exists with His energies—the material energy, (jīva energy) and (spiritual energy—in a state of simultaneous identity and differentiation, permeating all, yet remaining aloof, which is only possible by His inconceivable power (acintya-bhedābheda-tattva).

abhidheya sone -> perferres only by those who have externel a conglete unlessed fral & life.

Sähhena -> Many -> performer by Abhidheya those who have an inouslate, marrect unestanting of one's goal of life

- 8. The process specifically mentioned (abhidheya) for the jīva in the Vedas is the nine-fold process of devotional service, divided into vaidhi and bhakti.
 - Of the nine processes, the hearing and chanting of the holy name are principal means.
 - That is the reason the chanting of 'om' is glorified in the Vedas.

- 9. The final goal or constitutional platform (prayojana) of the jīvas is the activity of pure bhakti (prema).
 - This is attained by the mercy of Kṛṣṇa.

• "These are the basic principles for the guidance of the jīvas which are denoted by the Vedas.

C) Criticism of Scriptures

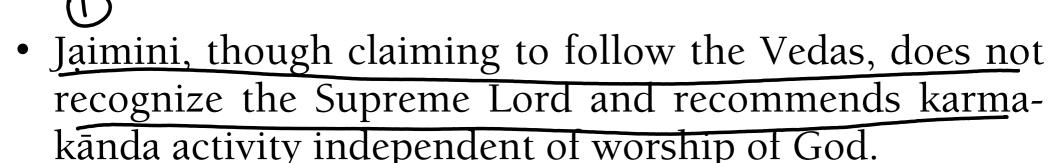

Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

• If one criticizes the Vedas, that is an offense to the holy name. Such a person is a low rascal.

• "In the history of India there are six personalities who invented theories, and by their inventions they simply brought themselves to no good end.

Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

• The atheist Carvaka had no respect for the Vedic knowledge; and similarly, the Buddhist, Gautama, does not worship the Lord, but instead thinks in terms of human beings.

Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

• All these philosophies are against the Vedas, sometimes directly and sometimes in a hidden way.

• Therefore the wise man, knowing that belief in these philosophies makes one an offender, completely avoids them.

• "One other philosophy to be avoided is that of the māyāvādīs.

Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

• Their scriptures are not genuine, but are distortions of the meaning of the Vedas.

• Actually they are covered Buddhism, and are meant to mislead the foolish people in the Kali-yuga.

Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

• He took the Buddhist doctrine of illusion and tried to delude the world.

• By doing this, he covered the direct meaning of the Vedas and the process of bhakti.

• Thus if one accepts any of these philosophies, there is no place for real bhakti.

The Third Shower of Nectar Effect of the Six Systems of Philosophy

• If one takes the holy name along with these philosophies, one is committing serious offense to the name. One simply brings about one's own end.

• "If the jīva can accept the direct meaning of the Vedas, which is the path of pure bhakti, he will be rewarded with the sweetness of prema, but if he takes indirect meaning or metaphorical interpretations as the real meaning, he cannot come to truth and dies of his offense to Krsna.

C) Criticism of Scriptures

The Scriptures actually Glorify the Holy-Name

The Third Shower of Nectar The Scriptures actually Glorify the Holy-Name

• The principal sound in the Vedas is 'om,' which is a name of Kṛṣṇa, and by chanting the name one can achieve the goal of life.

• This name is utilized by the devotees in the Śrī sampradāya.

• The Vedas state that the holy name is the spiritual form of the Lord in the material world.

The Third Shower of Nectar The Scriptures actually Glorify the Holy-Name

• It is so powerful that even the faint influence of the name can bring about perfection.

The purport is this

• Since the Vedas are teaching chanting of the pure name as the principal process, to criticize the Vedas is to criticize the name.

• That is offensive.

The Third Shower of Nectar The Scriptures actually Glorify the Holy-Name

• The devotees, however, take shelter of the Vedas, and by chanting the holy name, attain the nectar of the name.

• The Vedas are saying, 'Just chant the name of the Lord and by that you will receive the highest form of love and bliss.'

Result of Criticising the Scriptures

Result of Criticising the Scriptures

• "It is unfortunate that in Kali-yuga even so-called great personalities avoid the Supreme Personality of Krsna and His nectarean name, and instead worship the illusory energy, māyā devī.

• By taking shelter of the tamasic tantra, they criticize the Vedic authority.

• Lustful for meat and intoxication, leading a corrupt life against dharma, these people kill themselves.

Result of Criticising the Scriptures

• They do not take the name of Kṛṣṇa nor do they get the eternal dhāma of Vṛndāvana.

• Māyā devī gives the atheists wordly happiness or punishment according to their activities, but to one who serves the devotees, she gives the shelter of Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet.

Result of Criticising the Scriptures

• Being Kṛṣṇa servant, she punishes the erring jīvas and gives only illusory happiness to those who worship her.

• But if one worships Kṛṣṇa and His name, she helps him overcome the material ocean.

The disciple should learn to develop attraction for the glories of the Lord (pāvanam bhagavad-yaśah) through discussions with other devotees (paraspara anukathanam). He will experience happiness from their association (mitho ratir mithas tustir) and mutually they will become detached from material enjoyment (nivrttir mitha ātmanah).

Taking shelter of purifying discussions where there is glorification of the Lord, one will have mutual enjoyment without rivalry (mithaḥ ratiḥ).

One will have happiness arising from association with other devotees.

Mutually one will become detached from material enjoyment—from one's wife and other things unfavorable for devotional development.

The disciple should learn all of this.

• Thus if one thinks that the following occasional episodes demonstrate anartha arising even after attaining the lotus feet of the Lord, by one's intelligence he should throw out that thought from his mind.

V – Stages in Nullification of the Anarthas

• In the case of Chitraketu's who had already attained the lotus feet of the Lord, his accidental maha aparadha to Shiva was apparent, not real, for there was no ill effect from his mistake.

• Both as an associate of the Lord, and assuming the form of a demon (Vritrasura) his wealth of prema was still evident.

V – Stages in Nullification of the Anarthas

• The cause of the apparent offense of Jaya and Vijaya was a manifestation of their personal desire stimulated by prema.

Somehow or other, make us inimical to You, and realize Your desire to fight.

We, being Your faithful servants, cannot tolerate to see any lack whatever in Your perfection.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• One may raise the objection that these stages of extinguishing anarthas do not apply to devotees, quoting hundreds of verses from shastra such as:

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

amhaḥ samharad akhilam sakṛd udayād eva sakala-lokasya taraṇir iva timira-jaladhim jayati jagan-maṅgalam harer nāma

As the rising sun (taraṇir iva) immediately dissipates (udayād eva saṃharad) all the world's darkness (sakala-lokasya aṃhaḥ), which is deep like an ocean (timira-jaladhim), so the holy name of the Lord (harer nāma), if chanted once without offenses (sakrd udayād), dissipates all the reactions of a living being's sinful life (sakala-lokasya aṃhaḥ saṃharad). All glories to that holy name of the Lord, which is auspicious for the entire world (jayati jaganmangalaṃ harer nāma). (nāma-kaumudī, padyāvalī 16)

na hi bhagavann aghatitam idam tvad-darśanān nṛṇām akhila-pāpa-kṣayaḥ yan-nāma sakṛc chravaṇāt pukkaśo 'pi vimucyate samsārāt

O Lord (bhagavann)! Nothing is impossible for you (na hi aghaţitam idam). Just from seeing you, all my sins have been destroyed (tvad-darśanād nṛṇām akhila-pāpa-kṣayaḥ). By hearing one of your names once (yan-nāma sakṛt śravaṇāt), even the outcaste is delivered from the material world (pukkaśo api vimucyate samsārāt). (SB 6.16.44)

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

Or citing Ajamila's case, where simply by his uttering the Lord's name once in nama-abhasa, all anarthas, even up to avidya (ignorance, the root cause of material bondage), were removed and he attained the lotus feet of the Lord.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• This is all true.

• One should have no doubt that the Holy Name has in all cases such inestimable power.

• However) the Holy Name, being unhappy with offenses committed against it, does not manifest its complete power in the offender.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• This is indeed the reason sinful tendencies continue in the offender.

• Still, the servants of death have no power to attack such a person (as in Ajamila's case).

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

sakṛn manah kṛṣṇa-padāravindayor niveśitam tad-guṇa-rāgi yair iha na te yamam pāśa-bhṛṭaś ca tad-bhaṭān svapne 'pi paśyanti hi cīrṇa-niṣkṛṭāḥ

Persons (yaih) who only once absorb their mind (sakṛd manaḥ niveśitam) in Kṛṣṇa's lotus feet (kṛṣṇa-padāravindayoh), even in dreams (svapne api), or even though the mind still has material attraction (tad-guna-rāgi), do not see (na paśyanti) the servants of Yama (yamam pāśa-bḥṛtah tad-bhatān) since they have accomplished all atonement (cīṛṇa-niṣkṛtāḥ) by that remembrance (implied). (SB 6.1.19)

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• Though this is true, they have no means of purification other than becoming free from nama-aparadha.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• Citing the Padma Purana in the discussion on the ten offenses the Hari Bhakti Vilasa says:

namno balad yasya hi papa-buddhir na vidyate tasya yamair hi suddhih

Committing sin on the strength of the Holy Name (namno balad yasya hi papa-buddhir), one cannot be purified even by practicing the regulations of yoga, etc. for thousands of years (na vidyate tasya yamair hi suddhih). (HBV 11.284)

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• In this verse the word yama (yamair) refers to the rules and regulations (yama, niyama, etc.) of yoga shastra.

• In other words, though the aparadhi is free from Yama, the lord of death, yama (other means of purification) cannot free him of anartha.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• The case of the offender losing the mercy of the Name is similar to a subordinate who is offensive to his vastly wealthy and capable master (the Holy Name).

• He is denied proper care, and is treated indifferently by the master.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• As a result that person comes to suffer poverty and distresses of all sorts.

• It should be known that a master neglects a servant who is offensive and no one else is capable of helping him (karma, jnana, yoga, etc.).

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• If the offending servant again puts himself at the beck and call of his master, the master gradually shows mercy, and that person's sufferings are step by step eliminated.

• In the same way, the offending devotee will at first suffer some miseries.

The Holy-Name and Bhakti Devi, though Powerful, are not obliged to Respond to the Offender

• As he performs sincere service to the devotees, the scriptures, and spiritual master, the Name will again gradually manifest mercy and gradually eliminate his evil tendencies.

• Thus one cannot argue against the gradual elimination of anartha.

Part-VII

Proof of Presence of Offenses is the Lack of Symptoms of Ecstacy

Proof of Presence of Offenses is the Lack of Symptoms of Ecstacy

• Someone may argue that, I have never committed any offenses.

One should not make such statements.

Proof of Presence of Offenses is the Lack of Symptoms of Ecstacy

• Though the offense may not have been done recently, it may have been done in the past, but one can infer the existence of offenses by their effect.

• The effect of offense is that a person will not manifest any symptoms of prema by performance of nama kirtana.

The Third Shower of Nectar Proof of Presence of Offenses is the Lack of Symptoms of Ecstacy

Part-VIII

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

The Third Shower of Nectar Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

• Seeing the following verse from Bhakti-rasamrita-sindhu another doubt arises:

ke te'parādhā viprendra nāmno bhagavataḥ kṛtaḥ | vinighnanti nṛṇām kṛtyam prākṛtam hy ānayanti hi ||

Oh foremost of brahmanas (viprendra), what are the offenses against the Name of the Lord (ke te bhagavataḥ nāmno aparādhā) which cancel the results of all one's performances (vinighnanti nṛṇām kṛtyam), and lead to a material conception even of transcendental topics (prākṛtam hy ānayanti hi)? (BRS)

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

• In other words, repeatedly hearing and chanting the Lord's name should give prema, serving the sacred tirthas should bestow perfection, tasting repeatedly the prasadam should destroy all desires for sense enjoyment.

• So, what are the grave offenses which cancel these results and cause all these spiritually potent activities to appear material?

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

• This very startling and unnerving question is being raised.

• If this is so, does it follow that a person who commits a nama aparadha becomes averse to the Lord and thus cannot even take shelter of guru or perform devotional activities?

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

• This is true.

As during a serious fever, losing all taste for food, a person finds it impossible to eat, so a person who commits a (serious) offense loses scope for hearing, chanting and performing devotional activities. There is no doubt about this.

• However, if the fever lessens with time, some taste for food develops.

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

Even then, nourishing foods like milk and rice cannot give their full power of nourishment to the person suffering from chronic fever.

• They bestow some benefit, but cannot relieve him of his wasted condition.

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

• An invalid's diet and medicine can, however, with time, restore him to his previous healthy condition.

• At that time the full potency of normal food can be utilized by the body.

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

In the same way, after a long period of suffering the effects of aparadha, the intensity reduces comewhat and the devotee develops a little taste.

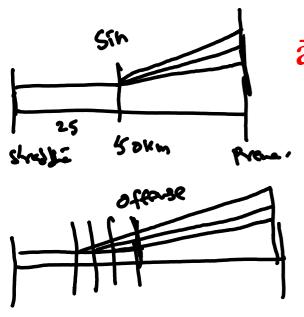

كذيلهلاوبع

Again the devotee becomes qualified for bhakti.

• Repeated doses of hearing and chanting the Lord's Name and performance of other devotional processes, gradually everything is revealed in progression.

The Third Shower of Nectar Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

The saints have described this progression as follows:

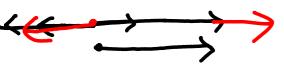

ādau śraddhā tataḥ sadhu saṅgo 'tha bhajanakriyā | tato 'narthanivṛttiḥ syāt tato niṣṭhā rucis tataḥ ||

tathāsaktis tato bhāvas tataḥ premābhyudañcati | sādhakānām ayaṁ premṇaḥ prādurbhāvaḥ bhavet kramaḥ ||

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

First, there is association with devotees, by which one gains faith (ādau śraddhā). Then, one associates with the devotees (tatah sadhu sangah) to learn the scriptures, and then practices bhakti (atha bhajanakriyā). The anarthas are then destroyed (tato anarthanivṛttih syāt). Steady bhakti without confusion follows (tato niṣṭhā). Desire for the Lord (ruci) appears (rucis tataḥ). This is followed by spontaneous desire for the Lord (āsakti) (tathā āsaktih). This becomes bhāva (tato bhāvah) and then prema (tatah prema abhyudancati). This is the progression (ayam kramah bhavet) for manifesting prema (premnah prādurbhāvaḥ) for those performing sādhana-bhakti (sādhakānām). (BRS)

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

CC Madhya 19.156

yadi vaiṣṇava-aparādha uṭhe hātī mātā upāḍe vā chiṇḍe, tāra śukhi' yāya pātā

"If the devotee commits an offense at the feet of a Vaiṣṇava while cultivating the creeper of devotional service in the material world, his offense is compared to a mad elephant that uproots the creeper and breaks it. In this way the leaves of the creeper are dried up.

The Third Shower of Nectar Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

However, if one thinks that he has become very mature and can live separate from the association of Vaiṣṇavas and thus gives up all the regulative principles due to offending a Vaisnava, one's position becomes very dangerous.

Giving up the regulative principles and living according to one's whims is compared to a mad elephant, which by force uproots the bhakti-latā and breaks it to pieces. In this way the bhakti-latā shrivels up.

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

Such an offense is especially created when one disobeys the instructions of the spiritual master. This is called guruavajñā.

The devotee must therefore be very careful not to commit offenses against the spiritual master by disobeying his instructions.

As soon as one is deviated from the instructions of the spiritual master, the uprooting of the bhakti-latā begins, and gradually all the leaves dry up.

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

CC Madhya 19.157

tāte mālī yatna kari' kare āvaraņa aparādha-hastīra yaiche nā haya udgama

"The gardener must defend the creeper by fencing it all around so that the powerful elephant of offenses may not enter.

The Third Shower of Nectar Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

When one associates with nondevotees, the maddened elephant is set loose. Śrī Caitanya Mahāprabhu has said, asatsaṅga-tyāga,—ei vaiṣṇava-ācāra [Cc. Madhya 22.87].

The first business of a Vaiṣṇava is to give up the company of nondevotees.

A so-called mature devotee, however, commits a great offense by giving up the company of pure devotees.

Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

The human being is a social animal, and if one gives up the society of pure devotees, he must associate with nondevotees (asat-sanga).

By contacting nondevotees and engaging in nondevotional activities, a so-called mature devotee will fall victim to the mad elephant offense.

Whatever growth has taken place is quickly uprooted by such an offense.

The Third Shower of Nectar Can Offenses Completely Destroy one's Creeper of Bhakti?

One should therefore be very careful to defend the creeper by fencing it in—that is, by following the regulative principles and associating with pure devotees.

Part-IX

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

Some not only suppose the presence nama aparadha due to the absence of symptoms of prema and traces of sinful activity in devotees who are practicing the devotional processes such as kirtana.

• But they also suppose the absence of destruction of the reactions of previous karma (prarabdha) by observing the presence of ordinary material distresses.

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

However, Ajamila named his son Narayana and called that name many times every day in what has been ascertained to be in an inoffensive manner.

Still, he did not manifest the symptoms of prema, moreover, he was also inclined to sinful relation with a prostitute.

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

• Yudhisthira had achieved the association of the Supreme Lord Himself and was thus certainly free from past karmic reactions.

• Still, he had to suffer many apparently ordinary material miseries.

• As a tree bears fruit only in the proper season, the Holy Name, though pleased with an offenseless person, will reveal its mercy to him only in due time.

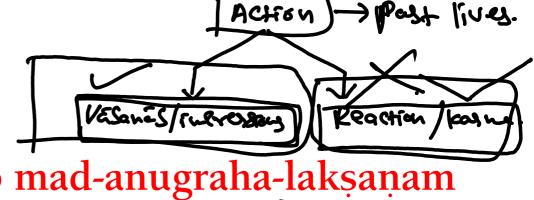

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

• For the devotee, accumulated sins committed due to previous bad habits have no effect like the bite of a serpent without his poison fangs.

• The sickness, lamentation and other sufferings undergone by devotees are not the reactions to sins in previous life (prarabdha).

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

The Lord has also said:

nirdhanatva-mahā-rogo mad-anugraha-lakṣaṇam

The awesome affliction known as poverty (nirdhanatvamahā-rogo) is in fact a sign of mercy (mad-anugrahalaksanam).

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

The Lord Himself has said:

yasyāham anugṛhṇāmi hariṣye tad-dhanam śanaih tato 'dhanam tyajanty asya svajanā duḥkha-duḥkhitam

If I especially favor someone (yasya aham anugṛhṇāmi), I gradually deprive him of his wealth (hariṣye tad-dhanam śanaih). Then the relatives and friends of such a poverty-stricken man abandon him (tato adhanam tyajanty asya svajanā). In this way he suffers one distress after another (duḥkha-duḥkhitam).

• A man suffers misery because of loss of wealth.

• He suffers further because of rejection by his relatives because he is poor.

• This suffering, being given by the Lord, is not the result of karma.

• Even the happiness given to the Lord's devotees is not the result of karma, but rather an unrequested result of bhakti

 The happiness and distress which appear to be prarabdha karma are given by the Lord himself.

• The srutis say, "bhavad uttha subhasubhayoh"

• (When a person realizes You, he no longer cares about his good and bad fortune arising from pious and sinful acts, since it is You alone who control this good and bad fortune.) b [10. 87.40]

"How can the Lord so affectionate to his devotee, make him suffer?"

• The father, though affectionate to his sons gives, them the austerity of studying by taking away their sources of enjoyment.

• The father knows that the action is a sign of his affection, though the son does not appreciate it at that time.

As the experience of happiness of suffering coming either from karma or directly from the Lord is similar, what distinguishes them?

• Even though experiencing happiness or suffering arising from karma (therefore finishing with the effects), a person still maintains the seed or desire (the cause, which will produce further happiness and suffering).

• The cause is desire for enjoyment.

• That seed continues (and produces more suffering).

• According to the degree of karma or sin, the person experiences a certain degree of happiness or suffering, even to the extent of falling to hell.

Thus there are three qualities of karmic suffering.

The Three Qualities of Karmic Suffering

1. Even though experience of happiness and distress destroys the Karma, the desire is not gone.

2. That desire leads to more actions which lead to further happiness and distress.

3. The distress many times can even be extreme hellish suffering.

• The suffering induced by the Lord himself however is by his desire alone (not by jiva's desires).

• That is the seed, and the seed lasts only as long as necessary for the lord's purpose and no longer.

|| 6.3.29 ||

jihvā na vakti bhagavad-guṇa-nāmadheyam cetaś ca na smarati tac-caranāravindam kṛṣṇāya no namati yac-chira ekadāpi tān ānayadhvam asato 'kṛta-viṣṇu-kṛtyān

Bring to me the non-devotees (tān asato ānayadhvam) who have never served Viṣnu (akṛta-viṣnu-kṛtyān), whose heads (yad-śirah) have never once bowed (ekadā api no namati) to Kṛṣṇā (kṛṣṇāya), whose tongues have never pronounced (jihvā na vakti) the name and qualities of the Lord (bhagavad-guṇa-nāmadheyam), whose minds have never remembered (cetah na smarati) his lotus feet (tat-caranāravindam).

• From this it is understood that for the devotee suffering because of the Lord, there is no fall to hell.

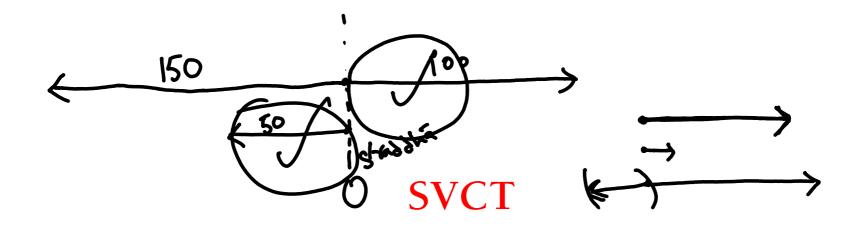

• Because of the affection of the Lord for his devotee, the Lord does not give them extreme suffering.

The Three Qualities of Suffering given by the Lord

1. The suffering induced by the Lord himself is by his desire alone (not by jiva's desires).

2. That suffering lasts only as long as necessary for the Lord's purpose and no longer.

3 Because of the affection of the Lord for his devotee, the Lord does not give them extreme suffering.

• The suffering arising from karma and the Lord are like the suffering arising from receiving a beating from an enemy and ones mother.

One is like poison and the other is like nectar.

But, can't the Lord fulfill His purpose without giving suffering to his devotees?

"For the Lord who solves all problems, will his purpose not be fulfilled without giving suffering to his devotees?"

• "It will not be fulfilled.

• He gives suffering to his dearmost, which ultimately results in happiness, like applying stinging ointment to the eye.

Three Purposes for the Lord to give Suffering to His Devotees

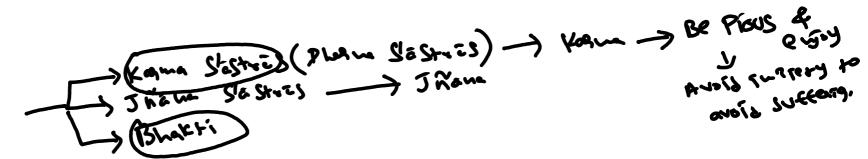

1. In order to preserve the secret of bhakti

2 To avoid uprooting the opinions of the speculators and Smarthas

3. To increase the longing of his devotees.

• Moreover if I make the devotees always happy, then there would be no avataras such as Krsna and Rama since they come to protect the devotees and destroy the demons.

• And if the avataras did not come, how could there be playing of the devotees in the sweet ocean of pastimes such as rasa lila?"

But is it a fault if the Lord comes without having to deliver the devotee from suffering?

Can't He come without the devotee suffering at all

"O brother you are indeed not familiar with rasa.

• Just listen.

The sunrise appears splendid because of the darkness.

• In the summer, coolness is pleasant, and in the cold season, warmth is pleasant.

• In the darkness, a lamp appears splendid rather that in the light.

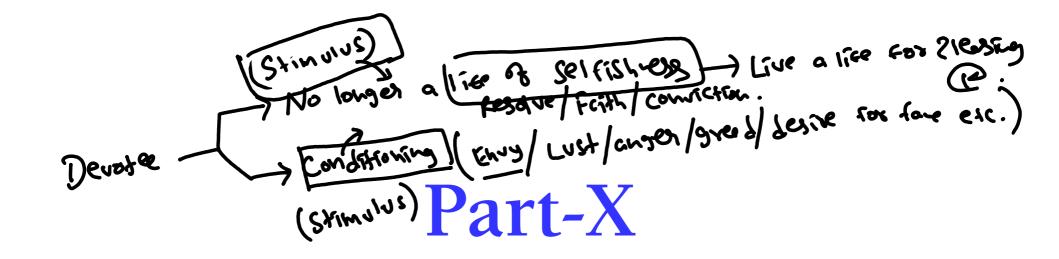

• Food tastes delicious when there is suffering from hunger. There is no need to elaborate more."

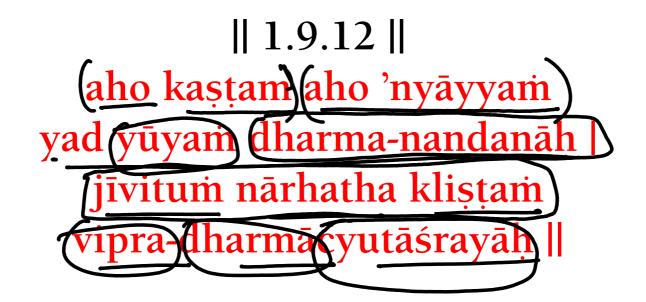

The Third Shower of Nectar

Devotee's suffering is not due to his Prarabdha Karma

• The truth is that the Supreme Lord, the greatest benefactor of His devotees, purposely inflicts suffering on His devotees just to increase their humility and yearning for Him.

• Thus the devotee's woes are not because of fruitive reactions nor are they reactions of prārabdha sins.

O Yudhistir (dharma-nandanāḥ)! Having the shelter of brāhmaṇas, dharma and Kṛṣṇa (vipra-dharma acyuta āśrayāḥ), you should not live your life in suffering (yad yūyam na arhatha jīvitum kliṣṭam) since that is dangerous and improper (aho kaṣṭam aho anyāyyam).

| 1.9.17 ||

O master (nātha)! O controller (prabho)! Of best of the Bharata lineage (bharata rṣabha)! Therefore (tasmād), discerning (vyavasya) that the suffering and happiness is dependent only on Kṛṣṇa (idam daiva-tantram), follow him (tasya anuvihito) and protect the helpless citizens (anāthā prajāh pāḥi).

|| 1.9.16||
na hy asya karhicid rājan

yad vijijñāsayā yukta
muhyanti kavayo 'pi hi ||

O King (rājan)! No one can understand (pumān na hy karhicid veda) the plan of Kṛṣṇa (aṣya vidhitsitam) because (yad) even those engaged in reasoning and scripture (vijijñāsayā yuktā kavayah api) are bewildered by that inquiry (muhyanti hi).

"So what should I conclude?"

• Here is the general conclusion.

• Everyone agrees that no one can interfere with the plans of the Kṛṣṇa and no one can even understand what his plans are, even today.

 No person, starting with Brahmā and Śiva, knows the plan of the Lord, what to speak of me! Maybe no one knows. But inquiry is necessary.

Does he want to give us joy?

• Does he want to give us suffering and happiness?

It cannot be the first, because then his quality of being affectionate to his devotee would be cancelled.

• It cannot be the second option, because we have not seen any happiness.

• It cannot be the third option because that would be a contradiction to his kind nature.

• It is finally decided that one cannot solve the problem by inquiry.

Thus the verse says that even those who use their intelligence to discriminate and those use knowledge of scripture are bewildered by inquiry.

| 1.9.18 ||
eṣa vai bhagavān sākṣād
ādyo nārāyaṇaḥ pumān |
mohayan māyayā lokam

Bhagavān Kṛṣṇa (eṣa vai bhagavān), the original Nārāyaṇa (sākṣād ādyo nārāyaṇaḥ), the puruṣa (pumān), who bewilders the world with his energy (mohayan māyayā lokam), secretly moves in the Yādava family (gūḍhah carati vṛṣṇiṣu).

• "But how can you say that it is all dependent on the Lord and that no one knows the plan of the Lord, when the Lord is at this moment right in front of you?

•In reply, Bhīsma speaks this verse.

•"He bewilders us with his energy."

• Even if asked by Bhīsma, the Lord will not speak, but instead will evade him by answering, "Am I so intelligent?"

•Even if he says something, he still bewilders everyone.

•Therefore his plan is to be followed, but is not subject to inquiry.

anismhita -> waterdy

Between Bhajana Kriya and Nistha is Anartha Nivrtti

Between Bhajana Kriya and Nistha is Anartha Nivrtti

• Previously, in the discussion of the two types of bhajana kriya, anishthita and nishthita, six types of the anishthita bhajana kriya were described.

• Without describing nishthita bhajana kriya, anartha nivritti was discussed.

The Fourth Shower of Nectar Between Bhajana Kriya and Nistha is Anartha Nivrtti

Because it says in Shrimad Bhagavatam: (śrnvatām sva-kathāh krsnah) (punya-śravana-kīrtanah Semest nasta-prāyesv abhadresu (nityam bhāgavata-sevayā bhagavaty uttama-śloke bhaktir bhavati naisthikī

The Fourth Shower of Nectar Between Bhajana Kriya and Nistha is Anartha Nivrtti

• Lord Krishna, who is affectionate to His devotees and situated in their hearts, destroys all inauspicious elements of those who hear topics about the Lord. When the inauspicious elements have been generally destroyed by devotional service, steady devotion to the Lord appears. (SB:1.2.17-18)

• The first verse (srnvatam sva-kathah...) refers to the stage of anishthita or unsteady bhakti, for naistiki bhakti or nishthita bhakti makes its appearance later in the second verse.

Between Bhajana Kriya and Nistha is Anartha Nivrtti

• Abhadrani vidhunoti (destruction of inauspicious elements) which appears between these two stages, refers to the stage of anartha nivritti.

• The words nasta-prayesv abhadresu (inauspiciousness is almost destroyed) means at the stage of nishtha, only a small portion of anarthas remains.

Between Bhajana Kriya and Nistha is Anartha Nivrtti

• Thus, The proper order according to Shrimad Bhagavatam is bhajana kriya, anartha nivritti, nishtha.

• Therefore in its proper place, nishthita bhakti will be discussed now.

Part – II

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

• Nishtha means to be endowed with the quality of steadiness, or non-movement (naishchalyam).

• Though a person tries for steadiness every day, while the anarthas are still present, he will not attain steadiness.

5 obstacles -> vonions manifestatins of 2 obstacles

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

- 1. Łaya (sleep) —> MoI
- 2 √ikshepa (distraction) → M°P
- 3 Apratipatti (indifference or disinterest in spiritual topics) —> Mor (or) Mor
- 4 Kashaya (tendency toward bad habits) → MoI 60 MoP
- 5. Rasasvada (taste for material enjoyment).→ MoP

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

• After the stage of anartha nivritti, when these obstacles are almost completely destroyed, one achieves steadiness.

• Thus, the symptom of nishtha is the absence of the above mentioned obstacles.

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

1. Laya refers to the tendency to sleep during kirtana, shravana and smarana (japa), in order of increasing tendency.

2. Vikshepa refers to distraction toward mundane topics while performing service (i.e., gossiping while doing japa).

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

3. Apratipatti refers to the occasional inability to perform kirtana, etc. in spite of the absence of laya or vikshepa.

4. Kashaya means the tendency to indulge in anger, greed, pride, etc due to past bad habit.

5. Rasasvada refers to inability to absorb the mind in kirtana if one gets the opportunity for material sense pleasure.

The Fourth Shower of Nectar Description Service 5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha • Nishthita bhakti appears in the absence of these faults.

tadā rajas-tamo-bhāvāh kāma-lobhādayaś ca ye ceta etair anāviddham sthitam sattve prasīdati

At that time (tadā), being completely free (anāviddham) from the influences of tama and raja guna (etair rajastamo-bhāvāḥ), such as lust, greed and other impurities (kāma-lobhādayaś ca), the heart is satisfied in a state of goodness (cetah sattve prasīdati). (SB:1.2.19)

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

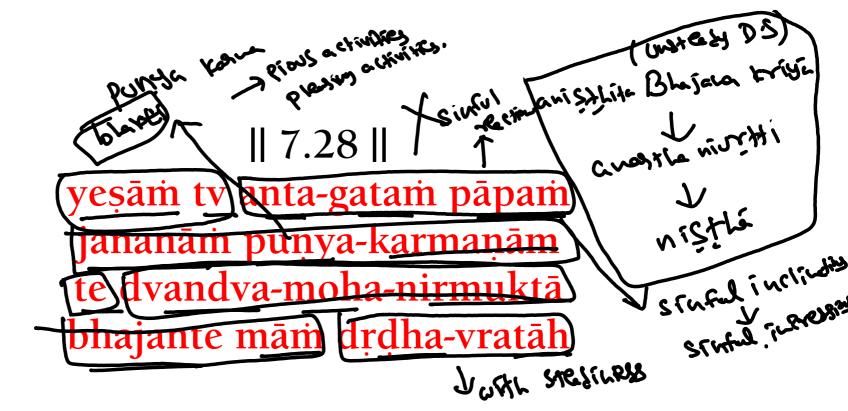

• Here the word ca is used in its collective sense to refer to all of these unwanted qualities.

• Thus in the stage of nishtha the modes of ignorance and passion are no longer present.

5 obstacles to attainment of Nistha

• However, the words etair anaviddham (no longer affected by these) indicate that these impurities are still present to some slight degree at the stage of nishtha, but do not act as an obstacle to bhakti.

• All traces will be removed when one reaches the stage of bhava.

But those whose sins have been destroyed (yeṣām janānām tv anta-gatam pāpam) by acts pleasing to the great souls (puṇya-karmaṇām), who are free of the ignorance arising from duality (te dvandva-mohanirmuktā), worship Me with determination (bhajante mām dṛḍha-vratāḥ).

Step-1: Puṇya-Karmaṇām (Bhakti) – Anisthitha
 Bhajana Kriya

 Step-2: Anta-gatam pāpam and dvandva-mohanirmuktā – Anartha Nivrtti

Step-3: Bhajante mām dṛḍha-vratāḥ - Nistha

Part – III

Nistha can be attained only when one overcomes the Ten Offenses

Śrī Śikṣāṣṭakam Śloka Two

nāmnām akāri bahudhā nija-sarva-śaktis tatrārpitā niyamitah smaraņe na kālaḥ etādṛśī tava kṛpā bhagavan mamāpi durdaivam īdṛśam ihājani nānurāgaḥ My Lord, O Supreme Personality of Godhead (bhagavan), in Your holy name there is all good fortune for the living entity, and therefore You have many names, such as Kṛṣṇa and Govinda, by which You expand Yourself (nāmnām akāri bahudhā). You have invested all Your potencies in those names (tatra arpitā nija-sarva-śaktih), and there are no hard and fast rules for remembering them (niyamitah smarane na kālah). My dear Lord, although You bestow such mercy upon the fallen, conditioned souls by liberally teaching Your holy names (etādṛśī tava kṛpā mama api), I am so unfortunate that I commit offenses while chanting the holy name (idrsam durdaivam), and therefore I do not achieve attachment for chanting (iha ajani na anurāgah).

Śrī Sanmodana Bhāṣyam

• In spite of what has been said, it is truly a matter of great regret that we cannot develop even a drop of attraction for the holy name, which is most magnanimous.

• The word durdaiva, or misfortune, is synonymous with offenses to the holy name, or nāmāparādha.

How to chant offenselessly

Purport by Śrīla Bhaktisiddhānta Sarasvati

• There is indeed a way to escape the steely clutches of nāmāparādha.

• One must recognize and: isolate the offenses conscientiously avoiding them he mbst then chant continuously, this alone will keep nāmāparādha at bay.

• Namabhasa chanting elevates one to the platform of mukti, or liberation, freeing one from the influence of and dependence upon matter.

Purport by Śrīla Bhaktisiddhānta Sarasvati

• Thereafter one becomes competent to chant the holy name purely.

• All these opportunities provided to us by the Supreme Lord indicate the unlimited, perennial flow of His compassion.

• Simply chanting the principal names of God brings about the highest and the only real benediction to all humanity.

Śrī Śikṣāṣṭakam Śloka Three

tṛṇād api su-nīcena taror api sahiṣṇunā amāninā māna-dena kīrtanīyaḥ sadā hariḥ

One who thinks himself lower than the grass (trnād api su-nīcena), who is more tolerant than a tree (taror api sahiṣnunā), and who does not expect personal honor (amāninā) yet is always prepared to give all respect to others (māna-dena) can very easily always chant the holy name of the Lord (kīrtanīyaḥ sadā hariḥ).

Śrī Sanmodana Bhāṣyam

- The devotee who chants the holy name offenselessly is adorned with four very special qualities:
- 1. A natural meekness and humility because of his complete detachment from matter

- 2. A pure compassion unencumbered by envy —> There e.
- 3. A spotless heart free from mundane false prestige
- 4. A respectful attitude towards everyone.

Part – IV

Two types of Nistha

Two types of Nistha

- Nishtha, steadiness, is of two types:
- 1. Concerning bhakti directly (sakshat-bhaktir-vartani)
- 2. Concerning elements favorable to bhakti (bhakti-anukula vastur-vartini)

• Sakshat-bhakti has unlimited forms, still, there are three basic divisions: bodily, vocal and mental (kayiki, vachiki, manasi).

The Fourth Shower of Nectar Two types of Nistha

• According to some authorities, first one attains steadiness in bodily services, then in vocal activities (kirtana, etc.), and finally in mental activities (remembering, meditation).

• Others, however, disagree saying that eagerness to serve the Lord in a particular manner develops first according to the individual natures of the devotee, whose bodily, vocal and mental strength may vary.

• Their version is that there is no such progression.

Two types of Nistha

• Elements favorable to bhakti refer to humility, giving respect to others, friendliness, and mercifulness.

Part - V

Of the Two, which is the Reliable type of Nistha?

Of the Two, which is the Reliable type of Nistha?

• However, sometimes steadiness in such qualities may be seen in a self-controlled devotee who has no steadiness in bhakti.

• While elsewhere, steadiness in these qualities may not be perceived in an arrogant devotee who has attained steadiness in bhakti.

Of the Two, which is the Reliable type of Nistha?

• In spite of this, by the presence or absence of steadiness in bhakti itself (sakshat bhakti), rather than in the qualities of bhakti, learned wise men understand the actual presence or absence of nishtha, steadiness.

• Inexperienced perception cannot substantiate the truth.

Of the Two, which is the Reliable type of Nistha?

• This is confirmed by the cited verses, bhaktir bhavati naistiki, with the appearance of naishtiki-bhakti, tada rajas-tamo-bhavah...etair anaviddham, though traces of the qualities born of raja and tama guna may be present, they no longer affect the devotee.

Of the Two, which is the Reliable type of Nistha?

• In summary, what has been shown is that laxity or intensity of effort and difficulty or ease in performance of devotional activities, such as hearing and chanting is the criteria of discriminating the two types of bhakti, namely unsteady and steady.

Devotion, direct experience of the Supreme Lord (bhaktih pareśānubhavo), and detachment from other things (anyatra viraktir ca)—these three occur simultaneously (eşa trika eka-kālaḥ syuh) for one who has taken shelter of Kṛṣṇa (prapadyamānasya), in the same way (yathā) that pleasure, fullness of the stomach and relief from hunger (tuştih puştih kşud-apāyo) are experienced simultaneously, with each bite (anu-ghāsam), for a person engaged in eating (aśnataḥ).

When there is bhakti in the form of hearing and chanting about Kṛṣṇa, there should be a sweet experience.

At that time, there should also be an experience of detachment from material happiness.

These three should arise at the same time for the person who worships Kṛṣṇa (prapadyamānasya).

Similarly for a person who eats, there is happiness, nourishment and disappearance of hunger with each mouthful.

When one takes a mouthful of rice, this happens.

Just as a person who eats a little gets a little satisfaction, a little nourishment (fullness of stomach) and a little relief from hunger, so a person who worships the Lord a little with hearing and chanting gets a little experience of the Lord and a little detachment from material life.

And just as a person who eats a lot gets full satisfaction, full nourishment and full relief from hunger, so a person who worships the Lord fully experiences the Lord fully and becomes completely detached from material life.

But though it is impossible to keep eating, by more worship of the Lord one becomes more capable of worshipping.

That is the difference.

Freedom from pride (amanitvam); lack of ostentation (adambhitvam); nonviolence (ahimsā); forbearance (kṣāntir); sincerity (ārjavam); worship of the teacher (ācāryopāsanam); purity (śaucam); steadiness (sthairyam); control of the mind (atma-vinigrahah); detachment from enjoyment of sense objects (indriyārthesu vairāgyam); lack of identification with body (anahankāra eva ca); understanding (anudarśanam) that all states of existence such as birth, death, old age and disease (janma-mṛtyu-jarā-vyādhi) give rise to suffering (duhkha-dosa); freedom from attachment to others (asaktir), lack of identification with the condition of sons and others (anabhisvangah putradāra-gṛhādiṣu); equanimity of mind (nityam ca sama-cittatvam) in the face of desirable or undesirable events (ista-anista-upapattisu); devotion to me with undeviating attention (mayi cāṇanya-yogena bhaktir avyabhicāriṇī); resorting to solitary places (vivikta-deśa-sevitvam) with distaste for crowds (aratir jana-samsadi); constant engagement in knowledge of the self (adhyātma-jñāna-nityatvam); and always keeping in mind the goal of liberation (tattva-jñānārtha-darśanam)—all of these are declared to be knowledge (etaj jñānam iti proktam). What is otherwise is ignorance (ajñānam yad ato 'nyathā).

SVCT Commentary to BG 13.8-12 (amanitvam adambhitvam verse)

- The twenty factors to be used for gaining that knowledge are first mentioned in five verses.
- Of these, eighteen are common to both the devotees and the jñānīs.

ENTROPORTERIZ

• However the devotees zealously engage in the one element mentioned in the eleventh verse, mayi cānanya-yogena bhaktir avyabhicārinī.

SVCT Commentary to BG 13.8-12 (amanitvam adambhitvam verse)

- The other seventeen items manifest automatically for those who engage in that one item.
- The bhaktas do not devote effort to the seventeen items individually.
- This is the tradition.
- The last two items are especially for the jñānīs

Srila Prabhupada's Commentary to BG 13.8-12 (amanitvam adambhitvam verse)

- Of all the descriptions of the process of knowledge, the most important point is described in the first line of the eleventh verse.
- Mayi cānanya-yogena bhaktir avyabhicāriṇī: the process of knowledge terminates in unalloyed devotional service to the Lord.
- So if one does not approach, or is not able to approach, the transcendental service of the Lord, then the other nineteen items are of no particular value.

Srila Prabhupada's Commentary to BG 13.8-12 (amanitvam adambhitvam verse)

- But if one takes to devotional service in full Kṛṣṇa consciousness, the other nineteen items automatically develop within him.
- As stated in Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam (5.18.12), yasyāsti bhaktir bhagavaty akiñcanā sarvair guṇais tatra samāsate surāḥ.
- All the good qualities of knowledge develop in one who has attained the stage of devotional service.

SVCT Commentary to BG 12.15 (Verses talking about qualities that endear a devotee to Krsna)

Moreover, it is said:

yasyāsti bhaktir bhagavaty akiñcanā sarvair guṇais tatra samāsate surāḥ

- One who has unflinching devotion for the Personality of Godhead has all the good qualities of the demigods.
- By this statement it is understood that other qualities which please the Lord also automatically appear by the constant performance of bhakti to Me.
- Please hear about these. Five verses describe these qualities.

When the golden coin of bhakti, shining effulgently by the fire of (steady practic) and propelled by its own energy, becomes fixed in the devotee's heart, ruci or taste for devotional activities appears.

ASONT -> Steady Precedice is driven by a der attachent to Merel.

• When a person develops a taste for the activities of bhakti such as hearing and chanting, which is vastly greater than attraction to anything else, that is called ruci.

What is Ruci?

• Unlike the previous stages, at the state of ruci constant performance of hearing and chanting does not result in even the least fatigue.

• Ruci quickly produces a great attachment to the activities of bhakti.

Part – II

Ruci follows Nistha and not the other way round?

The Fifth Shower of Nectar Ruci follows Nistha and not the other way round?

syāt kṛṣṇa-nāma-caritādi-sitāpy avidyāpittopatapta-rasanasya na rocikā nu kintv ādarād anudinam khalu saiva juṣṭā svādvī kramād bhavati tad-gada-mūla-hantrī

The holy name, character, pastimes and activities of Kṛṣṇa (kṛṣṇa-nāma-caritādi), despite being transcendentally sweet like sugar candy (sitā syāt apy). But the tongue of one afflicted by the jaundice of avidyā [ignorance] (avidyā-pittopatapta-rasanasya) cannot taste anything sweet (na rocikā nu). But, simply by carefully chanting these sweet names every day (kintu ādarād anudinam khalu sa eva juṣṭā), a natural relish awakens within his tongue (svādvī kramād bhavati), and his disease (tad-gada) is gradually destroyed at the root (mūla-hantrī).

The Fifth Shower of Nectar Ruci follows Nistha and not the other way round?

• This is similar to a brahmana boy who, after diligently studying the scriptures daily, and in time grasping the meaning, finds no difficulties at all in applying himself to study, and moreover, develops a pleasure in the task.

• Because of a defect in the liver the ability to taste becomes affected, and sugar becomes distasteful.

• Sugar however is also the medicine to cure the defect.

Ruci follows Nistha and not the other way round?

• Understanding this, an afflicted person will take sugar daily, though it may be distasteful, and eventually he will develop a real taste for it, as it cures his sickness.

• In this way, the jiva's heart which is contaminated by ignorance and the other klesas, becomes cured by the medicine of hearing, chanting and the other devotional processes, which in the beginning may not be so tasteful, and eventually develops a taste for the activities.

Part – III

The Two Types of Ruci

The Two Types of Ruci

• Ruci is of two types: that which depends on excellence of elements, and that which does not.

• Excellence of elements refers to an excellence relating to such things as the Lord's name, qualities, form.

The Two Types of Ruci

• For instance a person may only experience pleasure from kirtana if it is pleasing to the ear and artistically sung, or may only relish topics of the Lord if they are delivered skillfully with literary ornaments and qualities, or may only enjoy Deity worship if all the implements, place, and materials are of high standard.

• This is just like a person with a weak appetite who, when notified of a meal, will ask what types of preparations there are and of what quality.

The Two Types of Ruci

• The first type of ruci is in which a slight trace of impurity remains.

• Therefore if a person depends on the excellency of the material elements of kirtana to experience a spiritual taste, one should understand that this is evidence of impurity in his heart.

The Two Types of Ruci

• A person with the second type of ruci will experience great pleasure wherever and whenever there is a performance of kirtana.

• He does not depend on excellence of the elements because he has actual depth in his taste.

• One should understand that he has no trace of impurity in his heart.

Part – IV

Deep Regret over his Past Consciousness is a symptom of Ruci

Deep Regret over his Past Consciousness is a symptom of Ruci

• "Oh friend, giving up the nectar of Krsna's names, why are you engaging yourself in pursuits for security and enjoyment, so hard to attain?

• What can I say? I am unfortunate, for I am the lowest criminal.

• Though I have received the mercy of the spiritual master, I have not understood its proper value.

Deep Regret over his Past Consciousness is a symptom of Ruci

• Instead I have been wandering everywhere, and in that way I have wasted my life.

• Keeping a precious jewel tied in the hem of my cloth, I have been searching out a cracked cowrie, a spot of false happiness between the banks of the river of material engagements.

• Not practicing any anga of bhakti, I have simply manifested lack of energy.

Deep Regret over his Past Consciousness is a symptom of Ruci

• So deceitful I am, such is my sense of taste, that I lick up acrid-tasting profane gossip like nectar and remain apathetic to hear the names, qualities and pastimes of the Lord.

• How unfortunate I am! When I start to hear about the Lord, I comfortably fall asleep, and at any opportunity for vulgar discussion, I prick up my ears and become wide awake.

Deep Regret over his Past Consciousness is a symptom of Ruci

• In this way I have contaminated the assembly of devotees and everything else.

• Old and bent as I am, what sinful act have I not performed, simply for the satisfaction of my insatiable belly?

The Fifth Shower of Nectar Deep Regret over his Past Consciousness is a symptom of Ruci

• I do not know what type of hell I will have to suffer for all my activities."

In this way the devotee will despair over his previous state of consciousness with a taste of disgust.

Part – V

Activities of a Person at the Stage of Ruci

Activities of a Person at the Stage of Ruci

• Then, in a remote place, like a swan, he will begin tasting and speaking reverently the nectarean topics about the Lord, the juice from the fruit of the desire tree, the Great Upanisad, Srimad Bhagavatam, containing the mystic science of bhakti.

• He will converse constantly with devotees, to the exclusion of all topics other than Krsna like a curious spectator, first standing, then sitting, finally entering in with full attention.

Activities of a Person at the Stage of Ruci

• He will take refuge in the Lord's dhama and will fix himself purely in the Lord's service.

• Ignorant people will think he is going crazy.

• The blissful devotional service performed by the expert devotees is like a dance.

Activities of a Person at the Stage of Ruci

• The devotee begins to learn the lessons of that dance; being taken by the hands of the dance instructress, ruci, he learns all experiencing an extraordinary, unprecedented, unimaginable golden bliss which cannot be described.

• In what blissful realm will he come to exist, when in time, he is made to dance by the supreme masters of dance, bhava and prema?

What is Asakti?

What is Āsakti?

• After this, when ruci (taste) which has bhajana (hearing chanting and other devotional activities) as its object of relish, reaches extreme depth, and makes Krsna the object of relish, that is called asakti or attachment.

Reliens P Reign for P Relien for P

• At the stage of asakti, the creeper of bhakti bears clusters of buds.

What is Āsakti?

• These buds will in no time become flowers, at the stage of bhava and then fruits at the stage of prema.

• The statement that ruci has bhajan as the object and asakti has the Lord as the object is a designation signifying proportionate quantity.

What is Āsakti?

• Actually both ruci and asakti have both components as objects, but by less intensity in taking bhajana as object and greater intensity in taking the Lord as object, asakti become distinguishable from ruci.

• Asakti polishes the mirror of the heart to such a condition that a reflection of the Lord may suddenly be visible there.

What is Āsakti?

• Before the stage of asakti, the devotee, realizing that his mind has been overpowered by material objects and desires, after putting forth deliberate effort, withdraws his mind and fixes it on the Lord's form, qualities and activities.

• In the stage of asakti however, absorption of the mind in the Lord is automatic, without effort.

The Sixth Shower of Nectar What is Āsakti?

• A devotee even at the stage of nistha cannot discover how his mind sometimes withdraws from the Lord and fixes itself on material affairs.

• The quality of attachment such that the mind sometimes withdraws from material topics and absorbs itself in topics of the Lord is not seen in one who has not attained the stage of asakti.

• This is however characteristic of the devotee who has attained the stage of asakti.

Symptoms of a Person in Asakti?

The Sixth Shower of Nectar Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Early in the morning, seeing another devotee, he will begin talking, "Where are you coming from?

• You have a salagram sila in a nice case hanging from your neck.

• Your tongue is quivering every moment from tasting the nectar of Krsna's name as you chant softly.

• Seeing you like this I feel overwhelming joy.

The Sixth Shower of Nectar Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Tell me what holy places you have visited, and describe all the great saintly souls you have met.

• What realizations have you had, and what realization have you bestowed to others?"

• In this way he will spend some time drinking nectar in intimate conversation.

Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Elsewhere, seeing a devotee with and attractive book under his arm he will say,

• "By your extraordinary presence I can guess that you are very learned.

• Please recite it for me.

Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Bring to life by your shower of nectarean explanation just one verse of the tenth canto, which is like a cataki bird waiting for raindrops."

• Hearing the explanation his body hairs will stand on end.

The Sixth Shower of Nectar Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Going elsewhere he will say, "Oh, just today my life will be successful, for this gathering of devotees will immediately destroy all my sins."

• Thinking in this way he will pay repeated obeisances on the earth.

• Being honored with affection by the most learned and advanced devotee, the crown jewel of the assembly, he will sit before him in humble, crouched posture, and beg from him with tears in his eyes, while holding his pulse.

The Sixth Shower of Nectar Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• "Oh master, you are the remedy for the material disease afflicting the three worlds. I am the most fallen and depraved person.

• Please diagnose my malady and advise me what medicine and food to take.

• By that miracle drug, restore me to proper health."

• Overjoyed with the devotee's glance of mercy, and his trickling nectar of sweet words, he will stay for some time to serve his lotus feet.

The Sixth Shower of Nectar Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Sometimes wandering by a lake or in the forest, observing the movements of the animals and birds, he will intuitively interpret them as signs of mercy or punishment of Krsna upon himself.

Example

• "If Krsna is showing his mercy to me, then let the antelope in the distance comes towards me three or four steps.

• If he is not showing mercy, the antelope will turn away."

Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Seeing a small boy playing on the outskirts of a village, he will be reminded of the child saint Sanaka and will enquire from the boy, "Will I see Vrajendra Kumara?"

• "No."

• Hearing that simple syllable, he will deliberate on whether to take the answer at face value or seek a deeper meaning.

Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• Remaining in his house, like a miserly merchant greedy for treasure, with a worn face, he will be absorbed in thought all day, while dreaming, standing, and sitting.

"Where am I going? What am I doing?

• By what means will I get my hands on my desired object?"

Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• When asked what is the matter he will sometimes act like a mute, at other times he will feign normality.

• His friends will apologize, "He was alright before, but now his intelligence has become covered."

Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• His unacquainted neighbours will conclude that he is an idiot by birth.

• The followers of Vedic ritual will consider him stupid.

• The adherents of the impersonal Brahman will consider him disillusioned.

• The followers of pious activities will say he is fallen.

The Sixth Shower of Nectar Symptoms of a Person in Āsakti

• The nondevotees will say he has amassed some great treasure

• And the offenders will say he is pretending.

• In this way others will judge him.

• But the devotee, far from considerations of respect and disrespect, having fallen into the current of the great celestial river of attachment (asakti) to the Lord, will simply continue his attempts to come closer to the Lord.

(BRS)

What is Bhāva?

• When asakti achieves full maturity it is called rati or bhava.

- Bhava is the preliminary stage of manifestation of the three energies sac, cid and ananda, emanating from the Lord Himself.
- It is called the blossoming flower on the creeper of bhakti, whose outer luster is the quality of "sarvaih surdurlabha" (rarity) and whose inner luster is "moksa laghu krti" ("taking moksa as insignificant"), just one particle of which uproots ignorance completely.

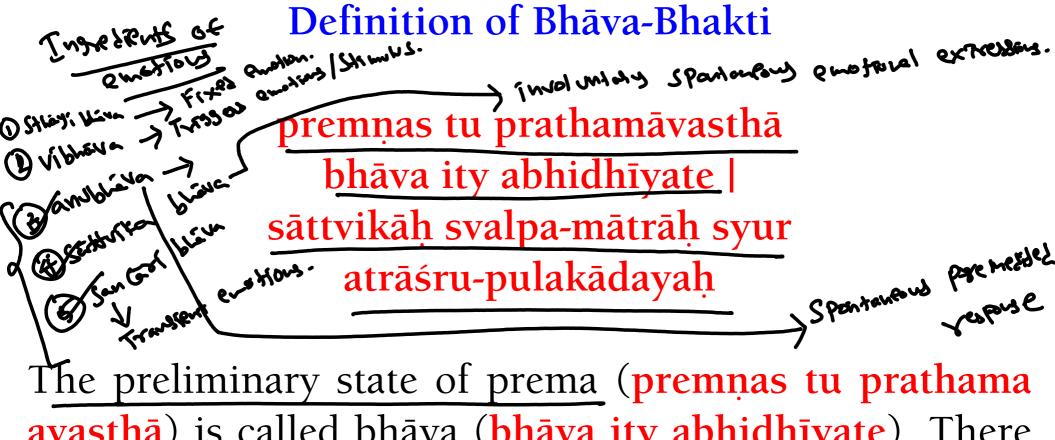

What is Bhāva?

• Moreover, by the profuse release of its fragrances, the flower of bhava is able to invite Madhusudana and make him appear there.

• In short, scented by those fragrances, all the emotions of the heart, like a cluster of sesame seeds, liquify into a perfumed oil, and become immediately fit to be smeared on all the limbs of the Lord.

What is Bhāva?

• At the appearance of bhava, its receptacle the body of even a candala becomes worthy of the respect that is due to Lord Brahma and other devatas.

The preliminary state of prema (premnas tu prathama avasthā) is called bhāva (bhāva ity abhidhīyate). There are a few sāttvika-bhāvas (atra sāttvikāḥ svalpa-mātrāḥ syur) such as tears in the eyes and hairs standing on end (aśru-pulakādayah). (Tantra)

Two types of Bhava Bhakti

• This stage of bhava is of two types: that arising from raga bhakti, and that arising from vaidhi bhakti.

• The first type of bhava, arising from raganuga bhakti, being greater in its strength and natural feeling, with a predominance of the feeling that the Lord is on an equal level and a distaste for seeing the Lord as the almighty master, is very thick or intense.

Two types of Bhava Bhakti

• The second type, arising from vaidhi bhakti, being somewhat lesser in strength and natural feeling, with a type of possessiveness of the Lord mixed with perception of the Lord as the almighty God, is not so condensed.

• These two types of bhava are tasted in two different ways in the two types of hearts possessed of two types of spiritual desires in two types of devotees.

The Five Ratis

The Seventh Shower of Nectar The Five Ratis

• This bhava is tasted in different degrees of sweetness, as in various degrees of condensation of mango, jackfruit, sugarcane or grape juice.

- There are five types of devotees: those acting as santas, dasas (servants), sakhas (friends), pitrs (elders), and preyasis (lovers), acting in the moods of santa, dasya, sakhya, vatsalya, and priyata.
- Bhava by its own energy causes the appearance of vibhava, anubhava, and vyabhicari.

The Five Ratis

• The dominating mood generated from these elements is called sthay! bhava, which, by mixing with the elements, produces santa, dasya, sakhya, vatsalya, and ujjvala rasas.

Part – V

Perfection of all Rasas is in Krsna - Akhila Rasamrta Murti

Perfection of all Rasas is in Krsna - Akhila Rasamrta Murti

• The sruti texts define rasa as the very essence of the Lord (raso vai sah).

• Just as water is present in all the streams, rivers, and ponds but is water personified in the ocean, so this rasa, though it is present in all the avataras of the Lord and touches perfection in each of them, attains its absolute climax in Krsna, the son of the King of Vraja.

Perfection of all Rasas is in Krsna - Akhila Rasamrta Murti
